Blood Donors Needed

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be here Monday from 9:30 a. m. until 4 p. m., and only 24 volunteers had made appointments up to noon Friday.

At least 200 donors are needed if the county's quota of 175 pints is to be reached, because there always are some who fail to pass the rigid examinations by the physicians.

The bloodmobile comes to Fayette County six times a year and the last two times it has been here it has gone back to the Columbus headquarters without getting the 175-pint quota.

THE FOUR Lions Clubs in the county are sponsoring Monday's visit of the mobile unit. These clubs—in Bloomingburg, Jeffersonville, Good Hope and Washington C. H.—have a combined membership of more than 200. But not all of the Lions will be able to give blood for a variety of reasons, that is the reason they are recruiting donors from outside the clubs, just as other sponsoring organizations have done in the past.

Mrs. Leonard Korn, secretary of the Fayette County Red Cross chapter, said volunteers could call her to make appointments; that it is not necessary for them to wait for a Lion to see them first. Her telephone numbers are 2-3681 and 2-2401.

Appointments, she said, are a big help to the staff because it can spread its service to avoid rushes and slack periods.

THE BLOODMOBILE will be at the First Presbyterian Church, corner Market and Hinde Sts., where all of its stops probably will be made this year.

Miss Christine Evans, Memorial Hospital administrator, said the records show 106 pints of blood have been given to patients there during June and July. Other Fayette Countians have received blood in other hospitals, she added, but the records on these have not yet been received here.

Miss Evans suggested that "it would be a big help" if those who have received blood from the blood bank will arrange to have a member of their family or friends replace it. This is not necessary, she emphasized, but repeated "it would be a big help."

RECORDS of the blood bank show that many have done this as a gesture of gratitude.

The bloodmobile will be manned by the same staff of physicians, nurses and other volunteers which has helped in the past. Food for the lunches that are served to the donors after they have given their blood also is donated by local businesses, clubs and individuals.

Military Rule Handed Cubans After Uprising

U. S. Ambassador Hit For Expression of His Views in Fuss

HAVANA (AP)—President Fulgenio Batista's army held Cuba under strict military rule today after an anti-Batista demonstration in the city of Santiago de Cuba.

Comments on the demonstration and the situation in Cuba by Earl E. T. Smith, the new U. S. ambassador, brought a fusillade of criticism from political leaders loyal to the president.

Batista's Cabinet suspended constitutional guarantees for 45 days and directed the army to take control of Santiago, capital of Oriente province and a hotbed of anti-Batista sentiment.

A general strike had been called in the city to protest police action. Most places of business were closed, although police forced some food stores to reopen. Port operations were halted and banks were shut down.

A cafe near Santiago that had remained open was hit by gunfire and hand grenades hurled from two automobiles Thursday.

ARMY reinforcements also were reported sent to Buycito, another town in Oriente province, where a band of rebels was said to have burned an army post.

Censorship again was clamped on local and incoming foreign newspapers and radio stations and on outgoing news dispatches. Stories sent abroad were being delayed as much as six hours.

Specifically banned was publication or transmission of news implying support for the rebels led by Fidel Castro. Also banned was news on work stoppages.

Full constitutional guarantees had been restored to Cuba's six million people April 15 after a 45-day suspension.

Thursday's new decree was the fourth time that constitutional rights have been lifted since Castro and a band of followers landed in eastern Cuba last Dec. 2 and launched a campaign against the government.

Smith arrived in Cuba July 25 to take over as ambassador, and the Santiago demonstration obviously was timed to coincide with a visit he is making there.

Smith told a news conference that the American people "are sad and preoccupied by the political uneasiness that has reached the point of bloodshed in Cuba."

According to one account reported to the Communications Ministry, Smith also said, "Any form of excessive police action is repugnant to me."

Batista supporters assailed the ambassador's remarks as "improper and imprudent."

Sen. Jose Gonzalez Puentes, leader of the President's National Progressive party in the Senate, talked with Batista and later issued a statement saying: "Cuba rejects and repudiates everything that could be interference in the affairs of the Cuban government."

Communications Minister Ramon Vasconcelos wrote in his newspaper Alerta that Smith had acted "as though Cuba was a Yankee protectorate."

Victim's Body To Be Exhumed

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Authorities here said they will exhumate the body of Mrs. Donna Duerr, found strangled near here last month, for police investigation.

Milton Weiner, 28, and Frederick Anderson, 49, two Toledo, Ohio, truck drivers, were arrested July 13 and charged with Mrs. Duerr's death, but were freed last Monday. Investigators said they will compare the dead woman's hair with another hair sample that figures in the case.

Adlai Raps 'Preaching'

PARIS (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson said today he thinks there has been enough preaching to the French about Algeria, "the two-time Democratic party presidential candidate said."

2 Youths Arrested For 'Breathing'

REDDING, Calif. (AP)—Shasta County Sheriff's officers said they arrested two youths and charged them with disturbing the peace by telephoning housewives and breathing at them heavily.

Mrs. Champ Martin said one of them "breathed at me for five or six minutes."

The callers did not utter a word. Authorities withheld the names of the accused.

New Highway Fund Set Up

U. S. Earmarks Nearly $3 Billion for 1958

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today earmarked nearly $3 billion to be spent on the national highway program in the 12 months starting in mid-1958.

The $2,875,000,000 apportioned to the various states includes $2 billion to continue work on the 41,000-mile network of limited access superhighways.

These interstate highways will link 90 per cent of all cities with a population of 50,000 or more. The program calls for their completion in about 16 years.

The Bureau of Public Roads apportioned $393,750,000 for the federal-aid primary system. This system, in existence for many years, includes almost all main routes used in inter-city travel. Counting in the interstate system, it is 235,000 miles in length.

For urban highways that are extensions of primary and secondary systems into cities, the government apportioned $218,750,000.

THE CURRENT highway program was enacted in 1956. The apportionment for fiscal 1957 was $1,250,000,000 and for fiscal 1958 it was $2,550,000,000. Today's announcement covers fiscal 1959, starting next July 1.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks said the fiscal 1959 apportionment is being announced nearly a year in advance "to insure uninterrupted progress in the program."

Seven states were apportioned more than 100 million dollars. New York leads the list with $197,947,856. Texas will receive $167,977,005. California $163,409,763. Pennsylvania $148,236,048. Illinois $132,433,592. Ohio $119,338,559 and Michigan $102,096,687.

British Warplanes Hammer at Rebels

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP)—British warplanes carried out the biggest air raid of the campaign against rebel tribesmen in the sultanate of Oman and Muscat Thursday.

Low-flying aircraft shot rockets and machinegun bullets into a rebel encampment at Farq and destroyed tents and huts near the mud fort, the RAF reported.

The RAF said it also caused extensive damage with a rocket attack on the round mud fort tower and barracks at Nizwa, center of the revolt led by Iman Ghalib Ben Ali, who seeks to establish an independent sultanate. His revolt against Sultan Said Bin Taimur brought British aid for the Sultan.

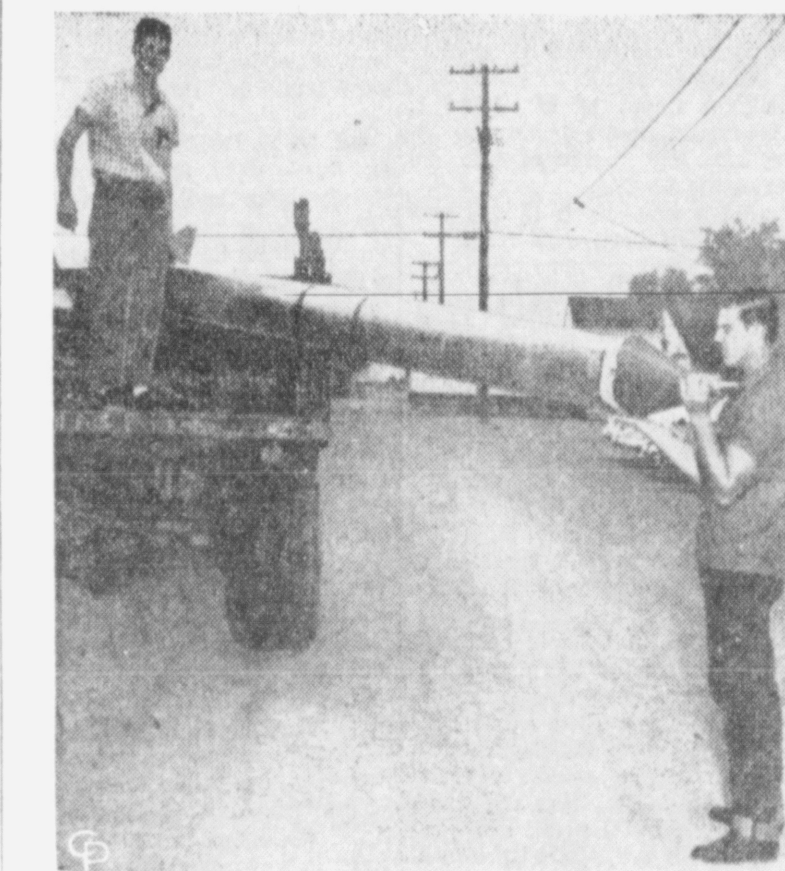

Blind Pensioner Killed in Dispute

DAYTON (AP)—A 67-year-old blind man was shot to death by a shotgun blast in the face today and an hour later a tenant in the victim's house surrendered to police and admitted the slaying.

Detective Sgt. Lucius P. Gleaton said he believed robbery was the motive in the death of Thomas Nicholson, blind since 1951. Gleaton said a $26 aid-to-the-blind check that Nicholson received Thursday was missing.

The detective said John Henry Dewberry, 57, who had been renting a room from the victim the last two weeks, admitted the slaying, saying it followed an argument over him coming in late at night.

Made Their Own Rocket

TWO 17-YEAR-OLDS, Clifford Ramsey (left) and Bradley Glover, unloaded their homemade rocket at Holloman Air Development Center, N. M., for experimental firing by the U. S. Air Force. They spent three years and more than $1,000 building it.

Civil Rights Bill Dead Now?

Ike Said Unhappy About Senate Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was pictured today as "damned unhappy" about the Senate vote adding a jury trial amendment to the civil rights bill. Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said the action probably means the bill is dead for this year.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) reported on Eisenhower's reaction after a call at the White House this morning to discuss another matter with the President. Without elaborating, Potter told news against the jury trial amendment.

Knowland's view that the bill may be dead as far as this session of Congress is concerned was not shared by some other backers of the bill. And Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) held out a possibility that some Southern opponents may even vote for the bill if a few more changes are made.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said had "no alibi" for the 51-42 vote by which the Senate adopted the jury trial amendment shortly after last midnight.

"I just didn't have the votes," he said.

Adoption of the jury trial amendment, he said, probably means that any measure the Senate passes will be tied up in a Senate-House disagreement. The House had rejected any provision for jury trials.

ON THE DRAMATIC rollcall vote, witnessed by spectators who crammed the Senate gallery, the party lineup was 39 Democrats and 12 Republicans for the amendment and 9 Democrats and 33 Republicans against it. Ohio's two senators split in the voting—Sen. Lausche, a Democrat, voted for the amendment and Sen. Bricker, a Republican, sided against it.

Ike Remains Mum on Offer To Sell Out for $1 Million

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—The next move is up to President Eisenhower if he's interested in selling his personal assets for $1 million.

A group of Tarheels, with Kidd Brewer of Raleigh as spokesman, made the offer Thursday in a telegram to the President.

Although the proposition got a laugh from Presidential Press Secretary James Hagerty, Brewer insisted it was a serious offer.

"The folks I represent are very much interested, and they think it would be a profitable deal if it can be done," he said.

In Washington, Hagerty said he had not seen the telegram and did not know whether it would be answered.

"The only thing that I can say is just to say that I laughed," said Hagerty.

The result was a wider margin of victory for the jury trial advocates than had been anticipated.

But approval of the amendment had been foreshadowed when, at mid-afternoon Thursday, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas announced that the vote might come at any time.

Johnson had been working feverishly behind the scenes to line up enough votes for the proposal. His announcement was taken as a signal he had succeeded.

Only two senators were absent on the rollcall vote. They were Sen. Neely (D-W. Va.), who is in the nearby Bethesda Naval Hospital, and Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.), recuperating in his home state from an illness.

The measure, as it now stands, would authorize the attorney general to obtain federal court injunctions against violations, or threatened violations, only on the right to vote. A section providing for use of injunctions to enforce civil rights in general was rejected last week.

The amendment provides that in criminal contempt cases arising from injunctions in voting right cases, defendants shall be entitled to trial by jury.

In civil contempt cases, designed to force compliance with court orders but not to punish for violations, there would not be a jury trial.

Written into the amendment was a provision to wipe out the requirement of present law that federal court jurors must be qualified under state laws.

This was designed to meet the argument of opponents that Negroes are discriminated against in the selection of juries in the South, and that all-white juries would try contempt cases.

Dulles Speaks For West in Arms Parley

All of U. S., Russia Would Be Open To Checkup Under Plan

LONDON (AP)—John Foster Dulles proposed today that all of the United States, all of the Soviet Union and most of Europe be exposed to aerial and ground inspection as a safeguard against sneak nuclear attacks.

Speaking on behalf of the West, the U. S. secretary of state broadened the West's "open skies" proposal in a dramatic bid to break an East-West deadlock in the U. N. subcommittee on disarmament.

Under the new Western plan Soviet planes would be allowed to fly over U. S. and Western territory and Soviet ground inspectors could check seaports, rail junctions, main highways and air fields to expose any warlike nuclear moves. Western powers would have similar rights throughout the Soviet Union.

Dulles had worked four days to get agreement on the plan among the Western members of the subcommittee—Britain, France, Canada, and the United States. There had been broad but incomplete agreement before President Eisenhower sent him here Monday to put steam into the talks.

THE WEST'S proposal was that a broadened open skies plan might be established when a "first stage" agreement on disarmament comes into force. The Western powers emphasized that the approval of all nations affected would be required.

Law Firm Aide Questioned on Cash Shortage

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland detectives today investigated the story of a motherly, 46-year-old bookkeeper for a law firm who signed a statement that in the last four years she took $96,000 to be on the horses.

The woman, Mrs. Louise Madigan, wife of a deputy sheriff and sister of a city detective, said she bet as much as $600 at a time. The wagers went into envelopes marked with the number 1109, and Mrs. Madigan said she would hand the envelopes to a man named Bill, who she met every morning.

Detectives said none of the known bookies in Cleveland match the description she gave.

Investigators expressed doubts about some portions of Mrs. Madigan's story and said it appeared she was covering up for someone.

She was tripped up three weeks ago when she went to three different members of the firm and had each one sign a check for $300, saying the money was needed by another member for a business trip.

She had worked for the firm for nine years.

Thugs' Weapon: Hunk of Cheese

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia police are searching for robbers who used a hunk of cheese as a weapon.

Cab driver John Evans says he picked up two fares Thursday and suddenly one of them hit him in the mouth with a handful of cheese. The other slugged his head with a lead pipe, Evans says, and escaped with $20.

Marilyn Monroe Loses Baby by Miscarriage

NEW YORK (AP)—Movie star Marilyn Monroe lost her baby Thursday night by miscarriage. An emergency operation was performed.

The wife of playwright Arthur Miller is reported "as feeling as well as can be expected."

"The baby was unsavable and it was urgent to protect the life of the mother," said a hospital source. One of her doctors said Miss Monroe was five or six weeks pregnant.

Toledo Police Probe Strangulation Case

TOLEDO (AP)—The nude body of a pretty auburn-haired mother was found beside a postoffice substitution today. Coroner Paul Hohly said she apparently had been raped and strangled.

Dr. Hohly identified the woman as Mrs. Anna Louise LaTour, 32, mother of four children.

Her body, a blue party dress crumpled beneath it, was found by a postoffice employee, Richard K. Hardenbrook.

Mrs. LaTour, cook-manager of a concession in National Lead Co. Doehler-Jarvis division, had been seen early this morning in the Gaiety Club on Monroe street near the postoffice station.

Her body was in a 2½-foot space between the postoffice station and a mail truck which Hardenbrook said had been parked there since early Thursday night.

One of her outstretched arms extended beneath the truck. A diamond brooch was found near one of her hands. Her wedding and engagement rings had not been disturbed, and her pocketbook contained $13 in cash and a $5.25 check from her employer.

DR. HOHLY SAID bruises around her neck apparently had been made by something other than human hands. He said the body appeared to have been dragged to the spot where it was found.

The spot where the body was found is directly beneath the living room window of Mr. and Mrs. John Bieszczad, caretakers for nine apartments on the second floor of the same building which houses the postoffice station.

Mrs. Bieszczad said she awakened about 1 a. m. today and sometime later heard a woman say, "What's the matter? Are you afraid of me?"

Mrs. LaTour, police said, had been off work several days while she was having dental work done. Officers said she frequently was in the habit of visiting the Gaiety, then walking home by taking a short cut through the postoffice station driveway.

Bringing in Cow Brings Troubles

BIG RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Farmer Frank Green of nearby Morley went out to the pasture Thursday to bring in his cow.

As Green approached, the cow kicked over a nest of bees. The bees attacked Green who began bawling them out of the way with his straw hat. The hat slipped off of his hand and fell to the ground. The cow ate it. Green, covered his head with his arms and headed for home—without the cow.

Escaped Monkey Hard to Catch

DOWAGIAC, Mich. (AP)—It's going to take more than all the king's horses and all the king's men to catch a speedy little three-year-old monkey named Cheetah. Cheetah broke away from her owner Orbra Cook Thursday night and took off on a tree-swinging tour of Dowagiac.

As a crowd of 150 watched, policemen chased the monkey but couldn't catch her. They called in two firemen for help but after two unsuccessful hours the officers and firemen gave up.

Cheetah is still at large.

Minimum Wages Maintained

Million 'Exploited' In Gotham, Claim

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rackets Investigating Committee developed testimony today that hoodlum-controlled labor unions and employers have conspired to exploit nearly one million Puerto Rican and Negro workers in New York City.

John McNiff, executive secretary of the Assn. of Catholic Trade Unionists, said "the worst evil of all in the trade-union picture today is collusion between crooked management and crooked unionism."

McNiff named 22 New York local unions which he said cooperate with companies to "exploit" Puerto Rican workers and other unskilled or semi-skilled workers in the metropolitan New York area. He said this is only a partial list.

He said the unions in cooperation with firms enter into contracts which are often only verbal agreements and often fix wages at the $40-per-week legal federal minimum wage for a 40-hour week, or rates only slightly above that figure.

A STANDARD practice, McNiff said, even among "the more respected industrial unions in New York," is to refuse to give workers copies of the contracts that are put in writing. Thus, he said, the workers seldom know even the minimum benefits to which they are entitled.

When the Senate committee's current series of hearings began, Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) said they would unveil the workings of "sweetheart contracts" between unions and employers.

Today's hearings are a new phase of the committee's probe into New York area unions dominated by labor racketeer Johnny Dio, described as a close friend of James R. Hoffa, powerful Teamsters Union boss.

Previous testimony has brought out that Dio got the unions started as part of the old AFL United Auto Workers, but since has

Big Outbreak Of Asiatic Flu Feared

WASHINGTON (AP)—This country faces the "very definite probability" of a large outbreak of Asian influenza next winter, Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney says.

But he reported Thursday that production is being rushed on a vaccine to combat the disease. He urged full use of it when it becomes available starting next month.

The head of the Public Health Service said there have been about 11,000 cases of the new strain of flu reported in the United States. He added undoubtedly there has been "widespread seeding of virus throughout the country."

He commented that cold weather seems to trigger flu outbreaks, and said if one comes it likely will be in December, January and February.

He told a news conference he believes the disease will continue to be the mild type so far reported in the Far East, South America and this country.

In Harrisburg, Pa., Dr. Berwyn F. Mattison, state secretary of health, said Thursday night that three cases of Asian flu had been reported in Pennsylvania. He said he understood the patients had recovered.

Take Risk, Halt A-Testing, Churches May Ask Nations

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A strong move developed Thursday at a world gathering of church leaders for an appeal to governments to halt nuclear bomb tests now—as a trial—with or without international compacts.

For three hours a succession of high ecclesiastical officials from many nations stepped to the podium to voice support for the proposal, described as a "risk for peace."

There was relatively little opposition. The matter was referred to a committee for hammering out the details before it is returned to the floor for final action, probably Tuesday.

"God can break this deadlock between America and Russia, between West and East," said the Rev. Alan Walker, Sydney, Australia. "Let us take the obvious first step that may cause a breach."

The plan was set forth in a statement presented to the interim policy-making body of the World Council of Churches by a branch agency, the Commission of the Churches in International Affairs. The Council embraces 165 Protestant and orthodox denominations in 50 countries.

LUTHERAN Bishop Han: Lilje, Hanover, Germany, said the continued "experiment with forces" which constitute unfathomed dangers to mankind "seems simply inhuman."

The statement urges a five-step program of agreements for halting bomb tests, disarmament and safeguarding the peace, but notes the obstacles in negotiating them.

To try to break the impasse, it says, "there is a risk for peace which Christians in countries projecting tests of nuclear weapons are justified in advocating, in the hope of breaking through the barriers of distrust."

"They can urge their governments to forego tests for a trial period, in the hope that others will do the same, a new confidence will be born and foundations laid for reliable agreements."

Methodist Bishop Santo Uberto Barbieri, Buenos Aires, advocated a "stronger and more direct statement." So did Dr. M. Niennel, Wiesbaden, Germany, and some other speakers.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Geoffrey Francis Fisher, Primate of the Church of England, said the pronouncement is "exactly what it ought to be."

"It doesn't say Christians have got to advocate this course," he said. "It says they're perfectly justified in advocating it. And I think they are."

Military Rule Handed Cubans After Uprising

U. S. Ambassador Hit For Expression of His Views in Fuss

HAVANA (AP)—President Fulgenio Batista's army held Cuba under strict military rule today after an anti-Batista demonstration in the city of Santiago de Cuba.

Comments on the demonstration and the situation in Cuba by Earl E. T. Smith, the new U.S. ambassador, brought a fusillade of criticism from political leaders loyal to the president.

Batista's Cabinet suspended constitutional guarantees for 45 days and directed the army to take control of Santiago, capital of Oriente province and a hotbed of anti-Batista sentiment.

A general strike had been called in the city to protest police acedemonstration. Most places of business were closed, although police forced some food stores to reopen. Port operations were halted and banks were shut down.

A cafe near Santiago that had remained open was hit by gunfire and hand grenades hurled from two automobiles Thursday.

ARMY reinforcements also were reported sent to Bayamo, another town in Oriente province, where a band of rebels was said to have burned an army post.

Censorship again was clamped on local and incoming foreign newspapers and radio stations and on outgoing news dispatches. Stories sent abroad were being delayed as much as six hours.

Specifically banned was publication or transmission of news implying support for the rebels led by Fidel Castro. Also banned was news on work stoppages.

Full constitutional guarantees had been restored to Cuba's six million people April 15 after a 45-day suspension.

Thursday's new decree was the fourth time that constitutional rights have been lifted since Castro and a band of followers landed in eastern Cuba last Dec. 2 and launched a campaign against the government.

Smith arrived in Cuba July 25 to take over as ambassador, and the Santiago demonstration obviously was timed to coincide with a visit he is making there.

Smith told a news conference that the American people "are sad and preoccupied by the political uneasiness that has reached the point of bloodshed in Cuba."

According to one account reported to the Communications Ministry, Smith also said, "Any form of excessive police action is repugnant to me."

Batista supporters assailed the ambassador's remarks as "improper and imprudent."

Sen. Jose Gonzalez Puentes, leader of the President's National Progressive party in the Senate, talked with Batista and later issued a statement saying: "Cuba rejects and repudiates everything that could be interference in the affairs of the Cuban government."

Communications Minister Ramon Vasconcelos wrote in his newspaper Alerta that Smith had acted "as though Cuba was a Yankee protectorate."

Victim's Body To Be Exhumed

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Authorities here said they will exhumate the body of Mrs. Donna Duerr, found strangled near here last month, for police investigation.

Milton Weiner, 28, and Frederick Anderson, 49, two Toledo, Ohio truck drivers, were arrested July 13 and charged with Mrs. Duerr's death, but were freed last Monday. Investigators said they will compare the dead woman's hair with another hair sample that figures in the case.

Adlai Raps 'Preaching'

PARIS (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson said today he thinks there has been enough preaching to the French about Algeria. "Algeria is a French problem," the two-time Democratic party presidential candidate said.

2 Youths Arrested For 'Breathing'

REDDING, Calif. (AP)—Shasta County Sheriff's officers said they arrested two youths and charged them with disturbing the peace by telephoning housewives and breathing at them heavily.

Mrs. Champ Martin said one of them "breathed at me for five or six minutes."

The callers did not utter a word.

Authorities withheld the names of the accused.

New Highway Fund Set Up

U. S. Earmarks Nearly $3 Billion for 1958

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today earmarked nearly $3 billion to be spent on the national highway program in the 12 months starting in mid-1958.

The $2,875,000,000 apportioned to the various states includes $2 billion to continue work on the 41,000-mile network of limited access superhighways.

These interstate highways will link 90 per cent of all cities with a population of 50,000 or more. The program calls for their completion in about 16 years.

The Bureau of Public Roads apportioned $393,750,000 for the federal aid primary system. This system, in existence for many years, includes almost all main routes used in inter-city travel. Counting in the interstate system, it is 235,000 miles in length.

For urban highways that are extensions of primary and secondary systems into cities, the government appropriated $218,750,000.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich) reported on Eisenhower's reaction after a call at the White House this morning to discuss another matter with the President. Without elaborating, Potter told news-against the jury trial amendment.

Knowland's view that the bill may be dead as far as this session of Congress is concerned was not shared by some other backers of the bill. And Sen. Russell (D-Ga) held out a possibility that some Southern opponents may even vote for the bill if a few more changes are made.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said had "no alibi" for the 51-42 vote by which the Senate adopted the jury trial amendment shortly after last midnight. "I just didn't have the votes," he said.

Adoption of the jury trial amendment, he said, probably means that any measure the Senate passes will be tied up in a Senate-House disagreement. The House had rejected any provision for jury trials.

British Warplanes Hammer at Rebels

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP)—British warplanes carried out the biggest air raid of the campaign against rebel tribesmen in the sultanate of Oman and Muscat Thursday.

Low-flying aircraft shot rockets and machinegun bullets into a rebel encampment at Farg and destroyed tents and huts near the mud fort, the RAF reported.

The RAF said it also caused extensive damage with a rocket attack on the round mud fort tower and barracks at Nizwa, center of the revolt led by Iman Ghalib Ben Ali, who seeks to establish an independent sultanate. His revolt against Sultan Said Bin Taimur brought British aid for the Sultan.

Blind Pensioner Killed in Dispute

DAYTON (AP)—A 67-year-old blind man was shot to death by a shotgun blast in the face today and an hour later a tenant in the victim's house surrendered to police and admitted the slaying.

Detective Sgt. Lucius P. Gleaton said he believed robbery was the motive in the death of Thomas Nicholson, blind since 1951. Gleaton said a $26 aid-to-the-blind check that Nicholson received Thursday was missing.

The detective said John Henry Dewberry, 57, who had been renting a room from the victim the last two weeks, admitted the slaying, saying it followed an argument over him coming in late at night.

Made Their Own Rocket

TWO 17-YEAR-OLDS, Clifford Ramsey (left) and Bradley Glover, unload their homemade rocket at Holloman Air Development Center, N. M., for experimental firing by the U. S. Air Force. They spent three years and more than $1,000 building it.

Civil Rights Bill Dead Now?

Ike Said Unhappy About Senate Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was pictured today as "damned unhappy" about the Senate vote adding a jury trial amendment to the civil rights bill. Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said the action probably means the bill is dead for this year.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich) reported on Eisenhower's reaction after a call at the White House this morning to discuss another matter with the President. Without elaborating, Potter told news-against the jury trial amendment.

Knowland's view that the bill may be dead as far as this session of Congress is concerned was not shared by some other backers of the bill. And Sen. Russell (D-Ga) held out a possibility that some Southern opponents may even vote for the bill if a few more changes are made.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said had "no alibi" for the 51-42 vote by which the Senate adopted the jury trial amendment shortly after last midnight. "I just didn't have the votes," he said.

Adoption of the jury trial amendment, he said, probably means that any measure the Senate passes will be tied up in a Senate-House disagreement. The House had rejected any provision for jury trials.

ON THE DRAMATIC rollcall vote, witnessed by spectators who crammed the Senate gallery, the party lineup was 39 Democrats and 12 Republicans for the amendment and 9 Democrats and 33 Republicans against it. Ohio's two senators split in the voting—Sen. Lausche, a Democrat, voted for the amendment and Sen. Bricker, a Republican, sided against it.

President followed comments at the President's news conference on Wednesday.

Asked about news articles which estimated his worth at $1 million, President Eisenhower replied: "If that man who knows so much about my business will offer me a million dollars to sell out, he is going to make a sale in a hurry."

Brewer is a businessman who starred in athletics as a Duke University student. He also has taken flings at politics, including an unsuccessful campaign last year for lieutenant governor.

While he is not at liberty to reveal the names of his associates, Brewer said, the group is "prepared to make a good faith deposit at once." He added that he is "anxiously awaiting an opportunity for further negotiations" with the President.

Dulles Speaks For West in Arms Parley

All of U. S., Russia Would Be Open to Checkup Under Plan

LONDON (AP)—John Foster Dulles proposed today that all of the United States, all of the Soviet Union and most of Europe be exposed to aerial and ground inspection as a safeguard against sneak nuclear attacks.

Speaking on behalf of the West, the U. S. secretary of state broadened the West's "open skies" proposal in a dramatic bid to break an East-West deadlock in the U.N. subcommittee on disarmament.

Under the new Western plan Soviet planes would be allowed to fly over U. S. and Western territory and Soviet ground inspectors could check seaports, rail junctions, main highways and air fields to expose any warlike nuclear moves. Western powers would have similar rights throughout the Soviet Union.

Dulles had worked four days to get agreement on the plan among the Western members of the subcommittee—Britain, France, Canada, and the United States. There had been broad but incomplete agreement before President Eisenhower sent him here Monday to put steam into the talks.

THE WEST'S proposal was that a broadened open skies plan might be established when a "first stage" agreement on disarmament comes into force. The Western powers emphasized that the approval of all nations affected would be required.

Law Firm Aide Questioned on Cash Shortage

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland detectives today investigated the story of a motherly, 46-year-old bookkeeper for a law firm who signed a statement that in the last four years she took $96,000 to be on the horses.

The woman, Mrs. Louise Madigan, wife of a deputy sheriff and sister of a city detective, said she bet as much as $600 at a time. The wagers went into envelopes marked with the number 1109, and Mrs. Madigan said she would hand the envelopes to a man named Bill, who she met every morning. Detectives said none of the known bookies in Cleveland match the description she gave.

Investigators expressed doubts about some portions of Mrs. Madigan's story and said it appeared she was covering up for someone. She was tripped up three weeks ago when she went to three different members of the firm and had each one sign a check for $300, saying the money was needed by another member for a business trip.

She had worked for the firm for nine years.

Thugs' Weapon: Hunk of Cheese

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia police are searching for robbers who used a hunk of cheese as a weapon.

Cab driver John Evans says he picked up two fares Thursday and suddenly one of them hit him in the mouth with a handful of cheese. The other slugged his head with a lead pipe, Evans says, and escaped with $20.

Marilyn Monroe Loses Baby by Miscarriage

NEW YORK (AP)—Movie star Marilyn Monroe lost her baby Thursday night by miscarriage. An emergency operation was performed.

The wife of playwright Arthur Miller is reported "as feeling as well as can be expected."

"The baby was unsavable and it was urgent to protect the life of the mother," said a hospital source. One of her doctors said Miss Monroe was five or six weeks pregnant.

Press Search For Attacker

McKinley's Condition Listed as Good

Oliver McKinley, 83, is still in Memorial Hospital here while Mt. Sterling police and officers of the Madison County sheriff's department continue their hunt for the man who slugged him on the head nine days ago.

McKinley was hit with a bottle when he opened his pool room and beer carry-out in the heart of Mt. Sterling about 5:30 a. m. July 24. Officers presume the attack was made by a potential robber.

McKinley was found dazed after he regained consciousness and stumbled to the sidewalk.

Rushed to Memorial Hospital here, he was found to have suffered a concussion, and possible skull fracture, in addition to loss of blood and shock. Although he has remained in the hospital ever since, his condition was described at the hospital as good.

Mayor Max Chenoweth of Mt. Sterling revealed Friday morning that the lie detector test had been given to five individuals by the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation at the London Prison Farm during the past week. However, he said, "they all came out OK."

Agents of the BCI also went over McKinley's place of business for fingerprints or other tangible evidence, Mayor Chenoweth said. Reports on this phase of the robber hunt have not been disclosed.

MAYOR Chenoweth declined to say whether those given lie detector tests were Mt. Sterling residents, but he did say the officers have no good leads now.

The mayor said most of the investigation of the attack, which has aroused the village, is being conducted by Police Chief Everett Oglesbee of Mt. Sterling and Sheriff Herbert Markley of Madison County and his deputies.

Mayor Chenoweth said that, despite the lack of clues, Chief Oglesbee and Sheriff Markley are pressing the hunt from several new angles.

Million Exploited

switched then into the Teamsters. McClellan said Wednesday that Hoffa used Dio to help gain labor domination over New York and the Eastern Seaboard.

THE COMMITTEE heard Thursday from Lester Washburn, 48-year-old builder and summer resort operator of Rhinelander, Wis. Washburn told how, as president of the old UAW-AFL (now the Allied Industrial Workers Union, AFL-CIO), he ousted Dio and suspended the Dio locals in 1954. He said those decisions were rescinded as he was bounced as the UAW-AFL chief.

Washburn gave some surprise testimony about the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, whose President David Dubinsky has been considered a leader in efforts to rid organized labor of racketeers.

Dubinsky is a member of the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee now considering racket charges against other unions. Washburn said Dubinsky gave him no help in ousting Dio, although urging him to do so.

Asked about Washburn's testimony, Dubinsky told newsmen "I will not engage in a debate with Washburn." Dubinsky said he would be "glad to testify" if the committee wants to hear him.

Washburn also said Dubinsky's own union once assigned Dio to help organize a Roanoke, Va., plant which the ILGWU hadn't been able to unionize otherwise.

In Roanoke, Martin W. Vest Jr., director of the ILGWU in Virginia, said, "We have no record of Dio in Roanoke and none of our older members knows anything about him."

Buzz, Buzz, Buzz, Buzz - Wham!

Deputy Sheriff Donald Thompson, investigating a minor accident on the Washington Waterloo Rd. about 11 a. m. Thursday, said he developed a "clear case of traffic liability," against several offenders. But they'll never come to justice.

As a matter of fact, the offenders stayed on the scene even after Thompson had made his report, but he never even attempted an arrest.

"I didn't dare," the stymied officer admitted Friday, saying, "I thought I might get stung."

THE TROUBLE was bees. A whole swarm of them clustered in a ditch about 8 1/2 miles north of town, right in the path of a county moving machine operated by David L. Haines, 34, of Staunton-Jasper Rd.

When Haines approached the bees, they started after him. No man to fool around, he headed the tractor straight for the middle of the road.

William Cupp, 19, of Route 1, Williamsport, came driving up behind him and screeched into the side of the tractor.

Damage was slight. Haines was unstung. The bees went free.

Giant Combine Of Unions Is Hoffa's Goal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Detroit Teamster chief James R. Hoffa is advocating a giant combine of transportation unions — land, sea and air.

Hoffa said that he is confident he will be elected Teamsters Union president next month to succeed Dave Beck. If he is, he says he will work for a merger of truck drivers, longshoremen, railroad and steamship employees and warehousemen into a giant transport union within the AFL-CIO framework.

Teamsters Union leaders are meeting here to review the union's constitution.

Einar John, administrative vice president of the union and constitutional committee chairman, said "We're going to take the constitution apart article by article and look it over."

He added that there will be no committee report in advance of the Teamsters' convention in Miami in September.

Mohr indicated, however, that if the committee backs Hoffa's plan to expand the Teamsters Union, it would not be by amalgamation with Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

Hoffa said that he intends to adhere strictly to AFL-CIO bans against relations between AFL-CIO unions and independent organizations such as the ILWU.

Deaths and Funerals

Harry H. Campbell

Harry H. Campbell, 86, of Mt. Sterling, a native of Fayette County, died at 7 p. m. Thursday in Memorial Hospital here, where he had been patient for the last four weeks.

A retired hardware dealer, he had lived in Mt. Sterling for about 60 years. He was born on a farm north of Washington C. H., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lenox Campbell, one of the prominent families of the community at that time.

He was a charter member of the Pythian Sisters lodge of Mt. Sterling and a member of the Knights of Pythias lodge there for more than 50 years.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Letitia Campbell, and a brother, Clarence Campbell of the Lewis Rd. He also leaves six nieces and nephews, Mrs. Naomi Reif, Mrs. Howard Dellinger, George W. Campbell, Joe D. Campbell, Harry H. Campbell, all of this community, and Mrs. Ruth Fulton of Mariemont, a Cincinnati suburb.

Services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the Snyder Funeral Home in Mt. Sterling and burial will be in the Mt. Sterling Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home any time.

DR. N. M. REIFF — Services for Dr. N. M. Reiff, 52, Washington C. H. physician and Fayette County coroner, were conducted at 3 p. m. Thursday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home with the Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, in charge.

Dr. Reiff died Monday night in Memorial Hospital, a week after he had suffered a heart attack at his home, 404 Rawlings St.

Palbearers were Carroll Halliday, Chris Halliday, Ralph Hickman, Fred Enslin, Ormond Devay, Dr. William Limes, Kermit Hanks and Dr. Francis M. Haines.

Honorary palbearers, who cared for the flowers, were Dr. Byers Shaw, Dr. Thomas Hancock, Dr. James Rose, Dr. Marvin Roszmann, Dr. J. H. Persinger, Dr. Robert Woodmansee, Dr. Robert Anderson, Dr. Philip Binzel, Dr. E. H. McDonald, Dr. E. R. Davis, Dr. A. D. Woodmansee and Dr. Frank King.

Burial was in Washington Cemetery.

MISS FANNIE McLEAN — Services for Miss Fannie McLean, 79, of 517 E. Market St., were held at 11 a. m. Friday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here. Miss McLean died Tuesday.

The Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, conducted the services, and burial was in Washington Cemetery. Palbearers were Robert Meriweather, Jr., Marion A. Rife, Carl Meriweather, and Richard Willard and Gene McLean.

OSBORNE PHILLIPS — Services for Osborne Phillips, 82, of 134 Oakland Ave., were held at 1 p. m. Friday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here with the Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, officiating. Mr. Phillips died Tuesday morning.

Palbearers were William E. and Richard E. Wolfe, John W. and Richard O. Phillips, Ted Collins and Jack Maronney. Burial was in New Holland Cemetery.

EMERSON HAVENS — Services for Emerson Havens of the Circleville Rd., who died in Memorial Hospital last Monday evening, were held at the Parrett Funeral Home at 10 a. m. Thursday. The Rev. Don McMillin, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiated.

Palbearers for the burial in the Washington C. H. Cemetery were Howard Merritt, Kuss Whitely, Ralph Merritt, Robert Williams, Howard Brooks and William Smith.

Sky-Ground Probe

The European zone to be opened to inspection would take in virtually the entire European land mass excepting the southern half of Spain and Portugal, the toe of Italy, the southern tip of Yugoslavia and Greece, the southern two-thirds of Turkey and Russia's northern approaches to Iran.

The zone would include Ireland and the rest of the British Isles, and extend eastward to the Ural Mountains.

Russia already has accepted the idea of sky and ground inspection in principle and has itself proposed two inspection zones in Communist and Western territory, each covering a 600,000 2 1/2 million square miles.

The Western document emphasizes that the globe-girdling plan must be part of a wider disarmament treaty between East and West.

The 69-year-old American Cabinet officer decided to present the plan personally in an effort to lend emphasis to the proposal.

By replacing Harold E. Stassen, the U. S. delegate, at the subcommittee session, Dulles brought the weight of his own authority and that of President Eisenhower's to the table. It was a climax to a whirlwind five-day visit to London ordered by the President.

THE "OPEN SKIES" proposal for aerial inspection of each other's territory by Russian and American planes originally was made at the Geneva summit conference in 1955 by President Eisenhower.

The idea for international ground inspectors at key ports, rail junctions, frontier areas and airports came first from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

The talks began when Dulles flew in Monday under the President's orders to appraise prospects of a limited disarmament treaty with Russia. They brought together the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France, and the Canadian delegate.

The exchange produced some agreements but several substantial issues on nuclear and conventional arms have had to be referred to home capitals for decisions.

2 Dayton Deaths Get Close Investigation

DAYTON (AP) — Authorities here are investigating the deaths of Dana R. Carder, 55, Dayton, and George Wotring, 39, Warren, whose bodies were found in separate parts of the city Thursday.

Carder, who was found in his apartment, had been dead four or five days, officers said. Wotring was found dead, apparently from natural causes, about 100 yards east of the Webster Street dump.

Press Search For Attacker

McKinley's Condition Listed as Good

Oliver McKinley, 83, is still in Memorial Hospital here while Mt. Sterling police and officers of the Madison County sheriff's department continue their hunt for the man who slugged him on the head nine days ago.

McKinley was hit with a bottle when he opened his pool room and beer carry-out in the heart of Mt. Sterling about 5:30 a. m. July 24. Officers presume the attack was made by a potential robber.

McKinley was found dazed after he regained consciousness and stumbled to the sidewalk.

Rushed to Memorial Hospital here, he was found to have suffered a concussion, and possible skull fracture, in addition to loss of blood and shock. Although he has remained in the hospital ever since, his condition was described at the hospital as good.

Mayer Max Chenoweth of Mt. Sterling revealed Friday morning that the detective team had been given to five individuals by the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation at the London Prison Farm during the past week. However, he said, "they all came out OK."

Agents of the BCI also went over McKinley's place of business for fingerprints or other tangible evidence. Mayor Chenoweth said. Reports on this phase of the robber hunt have not been disclosed.

MAYOR Chenoweth declined to say whether those given the detective tests were Mt. Sterling residents, but he did say the officers have no good leads now.

The mayor said most of the investigation of the attack, which has aroused the village, is being conducted by Police Chief Everett Oglesbee of Mt. Sterling and Sheriff Herbert Markley of Madison County and his deputies.

Mayor Chenoweth said that, despite the lack of clues, Chief Oglesbee and Sheriff Markley are pressing the hunt from several new angles.

Million Exploited

switched them into the Teamsters. McClellan said Wednesday that Hoffa used Dio to help gain labor domination over New York and the Eastern Seaboard.

THE COMMITTEE heard Thursday from Lester Washburn, 48-year-old builder and summer resort operator of Rhineland, Wis. Washburn told how, as president of the old UAW-AFL (now the Allied Industrial Workers Union, AFL-CIO), he ousted Dio and suspended the Dio locals in 1954. He said those decisions were rescinded as he was bounced as the UAW-AFL chief.

Washburn gave some surprise testimony about the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, whose President David Dubinsky has been considered a leader in efforts to rid organized labor of racketeers.

Dubinsky is a member of the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee now considering racket charges against other unions. Washburn said Dubinsky gave him no help in ousting Dio, although urging him to do so.

Asked about Washburn's testimony, Dubinsky told newsmen "I will not engage in a debate with Washburn." Dubinsky said he would be "glad to testify" if the committee wants to hear him.

Washburn also said Dubinsky's own union once assigned Dio to help organize a Roanoke, Va., plant which the ILGWU hadn't been able to unionize otherwise.

In Roanoke, Martin W. Vest Jr., director of the ILGWU in Virginia, said, "We have no record of Dio in Roanoke and none of our older members knows anything about him."

Buzz, Buzz, Buzz, Buzz, Buzz - Wham!

Deputy Sheriff Donald Thompson, investigating a minor accident on the Washington Waterloo Rd. about 11 a. m. Thursday, said he developed a "clear case of traffic liability," against several offenders. But they'll never come to justice.

As a matter of fact, the offenders stayed on the scene even after Thompson had made his report, but he never even attempted an arrest.

"I didn't dare," the stymied officer admitted Friday, saying, "I thought I might get stung."

THE TROUBLE was bees. A whole swarm of them clustered in a ditch about 8 1/2 miles north of town, right in the path of a county moving machine operated by David L. Haines, 34, of Staunton-Jasper Rd.

When Haines approached the bees, they started after him. No man to fool around, he headed the tractor straight for the middle of the road.

William Cupp, 19, of Route 1, Williamsport, came driving up behind him and screeched into the side of the tractor.

Damage was slight. Haines was unstung. The bees went free.

Giant Combine Of Unions Is Hoffa's Goal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Detroit Teamster chief James R. Hoffa is advocating a giant combine of transportation unions — land, sea and air.

Hoffa said that he is confident he will be elected Teamsters Union president next month to succeed Dave Beck. If he is, he says he will work for a merger of truck drivers, longshoremen, railroad and steamship employees and warehousemen into a giant transport union within the AFL-CIO framework.

Teamsters Union leaders are meeting here to review the union's constitution.

Einar Mohn, administrative vice president of the union and constitutional committee chairman, said "We're going to take the constitution apart article by article and look it over."

He added that there will be no committee report in advance of the Teamsters' convention in Miami in September.

Mohn indicated, however, that if the committee backs Hoffa's plan to expand the Teamsters Union, it would not be by amalgamation with Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

Hoffa said that he intends to adhere strictly to AFL-CIO bans against relations between AFL-CIO unions and independent organizations such as the ILWU.

Deaths and Funerals

Harry H. Campbell

Harry H. Campbell, 86, of Mt. Sterling, a native of Fayette County, died at 7 p. m. Thursday in Memorial Hospital here, where he had been patient for the last four weeks.

A retired hardware dealer, he had lived in Mt. Sterling for about 60 years. He was born on a farm north of Washington C. H., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lenox Campbell, one of the prominent families of the community at that time.

He was a charter member of the Pythian Sisters lodge of Mt. Sterling and a member of the Knights of Pythias lodge there for more than 50 years.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Letitia Campbell, and a brother, Clarence Campbell of the Lewis Rd. He also leaves six nieces and nephews, Mrs. Naomi Reif, Mrs. Howard Dellinger, George W. Campbell, Joe D. Campbell, Harry H. Campbell, all of this community, and Mrs. Ruth Fulton of Mariemont, a Cincinnati suburb.

Services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the Snyder Funeral Home in Mt. Sterling and burial will be in the Mt. Sterling Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home any time.

DR. N. M. REIFF — Services for Dr. N. M. Reiff, 52, Washington C. H. physician and Fayette County coroner, were conducted at 3 p. m. Thursday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home with the Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, in charge.

Dr. Reiff died Monday night in Memorial Hospital, a week after he had suffered a heart attack at his home, 404 Rawlings St.

Pallbearers were Carroll Halliday, Chris Halliday, Ralph Hickman, Fred Enslin, Ormond Dewey, Dr. William Limes, Kermit Hankins and Dr. Francis M. Haines.

Honorary pallbearers, who cared for the flowers, were Dr. Byers Shaw, Dr. Thomas Hancock, Dr. James Rose, Dr. Marvin Roszmann, Dr. J. H. Persinger, Dr. Robert Woodmansee, Dr. Robert Anderson, Dr. Philip Binzel, Dr. E. H. McDonald, Dr. E. R. Davis, Dr. A. D. Woodmansee and Dr. Frank King.

Burial was in Washington Cemetery.

MISS FANNIE McLEAN — Services for Miss Fannie McLean, 79, of 517 E. Market St., were held at 11 a. m. Friday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here. Miss McLean died Tuesday.

The Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, conducted the services, and burial was in Washington Cemetery. Pallbearers were Robert Meriweather, Jr., Marion A. Rife, Carl Meriweather, and Richard Willard and Gene McLean.

OSBORNE PHILLIPS — Services for Osborne Phillips, 82, of 134 Oakland Ave., were held at 1 p. m. Friday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here with the Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, officiating. Mr. Phillips died Tuesday morning.

Pallbearers were William E. and Richard E. Wolfe, John W. and Richard O. Phillips, Ted Collins and Jack Marmonney. Burial was in New Holland Cemetery.

EMERSON HAVENS — Services for Emerson Havens of the Circleville Rd., who died in Memorial Hospital last Monday evening, were held at 10 a. m. Thursday. The Rev. Don McMillin, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiated.

Pallbearers for the burial in the Washington C. H. Cemetery were Howard Merritt, Russ Whited, Ralph Merritt, Robert Williams, Howard Brooks and William Smith.

The European zone to be opened to inspection would take in virtually the entire European land mass excepting the southern half of Spain and Portugal, the toe of Italy, the southern tip of Yugoslavia and Greece, the southern two-thirds of Turkey and Russia's northern approaches to Iran.

The zone would include Ireland and the rest of the British Isles, and extend eastward to the Ural Mountains.

Russia already has accepted the idea of sky and ground inspection in principle and has itself proposed two inspection zones in Communist and Western territory, each covering about 2 1/2 million square miles.

The Western document emphasizes that the globe-girdling plan must be part of a wider disarmament treaty between East and West.

The 69-year-old American Cabinet officer decided to present the plan personally in an effort to lend emphasis to the proposal.

By replacing Harold E. Stassen, the U. S. delegate, at the subcommittee session, Dulles brought the weight of his own authority and that of President Eisenhower's to the table. It was a climax to a whirlwind five-day visit to London ordered by the President.

THE "OPEN SKIES" proposal for aerial inspection of each other's territory by Russian and American planes originally was made

French Salaries Hiked

PARIS (AP)—The French government braving a new threat of inflation, today, handed a 5 1/2 per cent wage increase to the nation's lowest paid workers, bringing their salaries up to about 33 cents an hour.

at the Geneva summit conference in 1955 by President Eisenhower.

The idea for international ground inspectors at key ports, rail junctions, frontier areas and airports came first from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

The talks began when Dulles flew in Monday under the President's orders to appraise prospects of a limited disarmament treaty with Russia. They brought together the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France, and the Canadian delegate.

The exchange produced some agreements but several substantial issues on nuclear and conventional arms have had to be referred to home capitals for decisions.

Rise in Prices Moves Along Steadily Now

Latest News Reports
Indicate More Living Cost Boosts Coming

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The dog days may be baking some of the zip out of the consumer but they aren't taking much out of the steady rise of prices and costs here and there in the economy.

Food, apparel and a multitude of gadgets and services are being pressured upward by the latest increases.

And the shadow of more to come falls across the news columns today.

Industrial leaders appear to be counting on a big fall pickup in business activity to make these price increases stick. If the new boom doesn't come along on schedule to put the idle industrial facilities to work, some of the latest price hikes may be rescinded.

But the belief in built-in inflation seems to be growing, a self-priming spiral of wages and prices which only a balky public could halt.

The threat of higher prices to come at the stores and in the commodity markets lies in these things:

Wholesale prices of food have climbed to the highest point since June of 1955 and are now 5 per cent above a year ago. Retail food prices seem sure to make another advance soon in sympathy.

Manufacturers ordering materials for fall production will be paying higher prices for steel and aluminum products.

Prices of some other metals that have fallen in recent weeks could be bolstered and rise again as the result of congressional action. Hearings on a proposed hike in the tariff on lead and zinc are underway in Washington with the object of aiding those faltering industries.

It's a long path from the mine to the car dealer's showroom or the appliance store, but in time the price increases in industrial materials will have their effect on retail prices.

Auto tire prices are going up as a result of higher wages in the rubber factories.

Higher wages in the cement industry seem sure to increase the cost of construction soon.

Price increases in woolen fabrics and in acetate staple which goes into clothing and home furnishings may send the cost of apparel higher this fall and next spring.

The cost of travel and of moving freight may go up.

All of these things add up to headaches in the cost accounting departments of American business. Operating costs continue to rise and the end is not in sight.

State Industrial Adviser To Resign

EAST LIVERPOOL (AP)—Will T. Blake, a member of the State Industrial Commission for 22 years, reports he is resigning for reasons of health.

Blake said he has sent Gov. C. William O'Neill a letter of resignation. He has two years left on his fourth 6-year term.

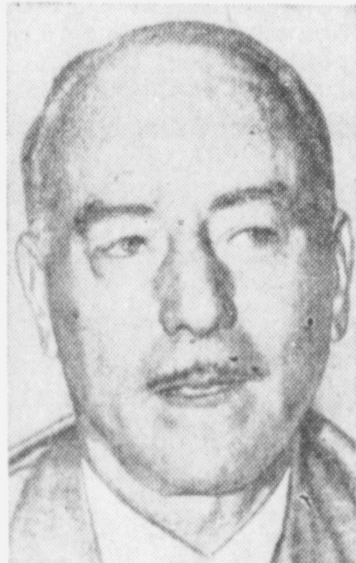

A Republican, Blake was director of industrial relations in the cabinet of Gov. Myers Y. Cooper in 1929 and 1930.

He was appointed to the commission by Gov. Martin L. Davey when it was set up in 1935 and was reappointed subsequently by Govs. John W. Bricker, Thomas J. Herbert and Frank J. Lausche.

Ambassador Gluck Certain To Have Answers Next Time

By JOHN SCALI
WASHINGTON (AP)—If Maxwell H. Gluck ever appears again before a congressional committee, you can bet he'll prime himself in advance with all necessary answers.

Gluck is a self-made millionaire businessman newly named as the American ambassador to Ceylon. He was shoved, suddenly and unwillingly, into the capital spotlight this week when it was disclosed that he couldn't name the

MAXWELL GLUCK

Prime Minister (Solomon Bandaranaike) of the country in which he was to represent the United States.

Obviously upset, he sought to explain belatedly to reporters Wednesday that he actually knew the Prime Minister's name all along when he was asked before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee July 2.

But, because he wasn't sure how to pronounce it, he told senators the name "is a bit unfamiliar" and that "I cannot call it off." He can pronounce it now, he added.

Gluck shook his head as he pondered the fireworks that have exploded since the Washington Post and Times Herald published some of the questions asked him and his answers.

Some Democratic congressmen strongly denounced his appointment. It even prompted a news conference question Wednesday to President Eisenhower. Eisenhower heatedly told reporters that Gluck's $26,500 in contributions to the Republican party last year had nothing whatever to do with the appointment.

But Gluck, whose appointment already has been confirmed by the Senate, has no intention of giving up the post. He will be accompanied to Ceylon by his wife, the former Muriel Schlesinger of New York City. They have no children.

Gluck, a 57-year-old Texas-born Republican, has an impressive business background. In the depression days of 1930 he started a store in Olean, N.Y., to sell women's wear.

By hard work he built it up into a chain of 150 stores, known as the Darling Stores, which now operate in 27 states. His shops gross some 40 million dollars a year. He has extensive real estate holdings in California, New York, West Virginia, Kentucky, Utah and Pennsylvania.

When he "semi-retired," as he puts it, early this year he began looking around for a government post because he wanted to be "of public service" as part of the Eisenhower administration.

Republican Senators John Sherman Cooper and Thurston Morton of Kentucky, where Gluck owns and operates the famed Elmendorf thoroughbred racing farm, recommended him to the White House. So did Sen. Javits of New York. Gluck maintains an apartment in New York City.

Gluck said he didn't seek the job of ambassador to Ceylon and was surprised when it was offered to him. He never has visited Asia. Although born in Texas, Gluck has a Midwest background. He went to elementary school in Youngstown, Ohio, graduated from high school in Sharon, Pa., and was associated with department stores in the Midwest in his youth before going on to New York.

Sen. Javits described him as a "first-rate chap" who was hit by the Washington political buzzsaw before he knew his way around the capital. Javits described Gluck as studious and serious, and expressed confidence he will make a first rate ambassador.

Jack Paar Seen Making Good

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—I believe Jack Paar can rescue NBC-TV's "Tonight" show from the doldrums in which it has been floating since Steve Allen left for the Sunday night wars.

On his opening night Paar came out slowly, but he always has come out slowly in his opening rounds. He's returning in general to the old Allen format, but he's making it very clear he's not imitating Allen. He's simply being Paar.

Being Paar is being an individualist. He says that you won't hear any jazz and jive talk from him on "Tonight," even though there's a theory that jazz lovers are always still up at midnight. Paar could easily acquire a little superficial jazz talk, but he won't because it doesn't interest him.

Being Paar, he lives with his wife and daughter and swimming pool and a lot of books up in Westchester County and always enters the city reluctantly and leaves it as quickly as he can.

The new "Tonight" show is further adorned by the music of Jose Melis, the Cuban pianist, and—at least for this week—by singer Helen O'Connell. Another pleasant innovation is the sexy weather girl, Tedi Thurman.

There's a relaxing quality to the program, though some people believe that the problem with "Tonight" in the past year has not been the nature of the program itself, but the old movies against which it competes.

One Lapse May Be A Driver's Last

Hardly a day goes by but that most of us see an incident or two in motor car traffic which might easily have meant another fatality.

A Washington C. H. man told us yesterday of something that was a perfect example of how things could happen which are matters of regret to everybody concerned for a long time. He was very contrite in mentioning it because he was the one concerned.

The principal actor in the particular incident described to us is a fellow whom we shall call John Doe. What happened is worth recounting because it shows that being a good driver is a full time job.

This man John Doe is, by the rather lax standards of our present society on wheels, considered a good driver. Certainly he is a better than what we might term an average driver. He almost always stays within speed limits; he slows down to fit his driving to weather conditions; he is meticulous about stop signs and has guilt feelings if he goes through an intersection on the yellow light. Generally, he yields to other drivers rather than take unnecessary chances.

Generally — there's the rub! The other evening, John Doe pulled up at an intersection on a medium width street. Several cars pulled up behind him waiting for the light to change. One impatient driver, instead of taking his turn in the traffic lane, sounded his horn and zoomed ahead to where he had no right to be, alongside John Doe.

Our friend's cue, as a good driver, was to swallow his annoyance and let the eager beaver zip out ahead of him; but John Doe fell from grace. When the light changed, he started up briskly and left the other offending motorist trapped by oncoming traffic.

It was a moment of petty triumph, but soon the taste of it was bitter in John Doe's mouth when he began to think of what might have happened if the other fellow had raced him away from the stop light and caused—or would it have been Mr. John Doe who caused—a crash?

Fortunately the other fellow stayed back, although he was wrong in racing up beside Mr. Doe as he did. No accident occurred, but next time what might have happened could be loss of life and other damage.

The lesson's meaning is clear. Good driving has to be practised every minute that you, or any driver, is behind the steering wheel. One lapse may mean a bad injury, maybe death, not only for the driver but for others as well. One lapse maybe the last.

Rankees Oh, Ah Over Royalty

LONDON (AP)—Britain's royal family is one of the greatest sales teams in the world.

Its garden party this week for 5,000 Americans — 3,000 members of the American Bar Assn. and their relatives—was a demonstration of compelling advertising for Great Britain.

Two hours' exposure to Queen Elizabeth II, the queen mother and Prince Philip made some of the Americans ecstatic.

Cecil Burney of Corpus Christi, called the queen "a honey." Said Charles N. Rhine, District of Columbia, new president of the American Bar Assn.: "She's just like a Dresden doll. The queen mother is the most regal person I've ever seen in my life."

"And the prince," broke in Mrs. Rhine, "he's just so handsome." Said Mrs. Herbert Brownell, wife of the U.S. attorney general:

"She's the Queen magnificent. She's heavenly. And he's so handsome."

John Ranck of Lancaster, Pa. smiled broadly.

"She's a real doll," he said, "and the prince is a charmer."

Mrs. Nora Snyder, of Kansas City, took a deep breath.

"I was just thrilled, absolutely thrilled to meet the prince." The Americans who spilled out over the Buckingham Palace lawn made no secret of the fact that they came to see, meet and if possible, talk to members of the royal family.

Mrs. Benjamin Roth of Youngstown told the queen: "We have a daughter who is just like you. People are always saying she could be your twin sister."

"A wonderful, wonderful family," nodded Judge Thornton G. Berry of Welch, W. Va.

Palace officials selected in advance a number of Americans to be presented to the royal family. Others just introduced themselves.

Wave after wave of admiring Americans ignored the palace officials, broke ranks, surrounded the queen, the prince and the queen mother.

There was only one disappointing feature—the absence of Princess Margaret.

A friend said she stayed away for fear the Americans, in their frank friendliness, might have asked Margaret too many questions. Such as—what about Peter Townsend?

Weakness of Arab Nationalism

For three decades, rationalism in the United States has been played down, often as a characteristic of foreign policy, often because of the efforts of various public organizations which regard nationalism as a social evil, sometimes as a product of left-wing internationalism, sometimes because men sincerely believe that is wrong to emphasize the importance of one country over another.

This phenomenon has appeared nowhere else on the face of the earth during the same period. As a matter of fact, since the end of World War II, nationalism has become increasingly intensified throughout the world, new, small, weak and backward nations being elevated to independence and becoming members of the United Nations on a status of equality with the great east powers.

Arabic nationalism has asserted itself to the utmost, but this form of nationalism is different from all others because Arabic nationalism assumes that all Arabic-speaking peoples, whatever their government affiliations, belong to the Arabic nation. This takes in a wide territory and a number of separate countries. It would be comparable to all English-speaking peoples regarding themselves as belonging to one country.

Arabic nationalism did not exist before the 19th century. Before Mahomet, Arabs were Jews, Christians and pagans and belonged to distinct warring tribes and nationalities. After the establishment of the Caliphate, church and state were united and an Arabic state developed from central Asia to the north of Africa including Egypt. When the Osmanli Turks conquered the Arabs and established a suzerainty over them, both Arabic civilization and Islam moved into eastern Europe and for a while the eastern Mediterranean was a Moslem lake.

Modern Arabic nationalism began as an intellectual movement whose strongest advocates were not Moslems at all but Syrian and Lebanese Christians, educated at the American university at Beirut. They gained their knowledge of the principles of nationalism from their American teachers.

Most of the nationalists operated out of Egypt under British protection. Much of the early research in Islamic history and archaeology in the 19th century was done by British and American scholars.

The Arabs had for so long been an oppressed people that they had themselves forgotten their former glories.

The politicians followed the intellectuals and by the time of World War I, they too became nationalists. As Turkey had joined the Germans, it became British and American policy to support the Arabs against the Turks and at the end of World War I, new Arab states were formed by British decision.

Egypt had been occupied by the British, not in opposition to the Egyptians who were not a free people, but to safeguard the Egyptians from the Turks and the Germans. But the strongest enmity in Egypt developed against the British and this intensified as the Egyptian royal family found by Muhammad Ali (1805-48) became increasingly wasteful and futile.

In Syria, the French had a League of Nations mandate which led to bitterness. Lebanon, which is hardly an Arabic country in the strictest sense, also was under a French mandate and became antagonistic.

Saudi Arabia, founded by Great Britain, was really the achievement of Lawrence of Arabia who resurrected the Hashimite family to hold this Arab world which split up as fast as it was put together. Transjordanian now called Jordan, a tiny and impoverished province, and Israel, a European-type country, including a few Arabs and governed by Jews, were both carved out by the British.

Therefore it was easy to assail the British as the enemies of Arabic nationalism which relates not to one country but to folks with a linguistic kinship. Iraq, of course, was and is the most stable of Arabic countries.

Nationalism and feudalism are not co-existent and therein lies the weakness of Arabic nationalism. Despite the great wealth that pours into some Arabic countries because of their oil deposits, feudalism, polygamy and slavery continue.

The problem that all Arab states face is the establishment of a sound system of government, consonant with the best interests and the will of their peoples. This has not been achieved anywhere. To some westerners, Nasser looked like a young hopeful, but it is obvious to the Arabs that he is a troublesome upstart.

The leader of the moment seems to be King Saud, but it is doubtful that the younger generations in the various Arab countries will accept his extreme Wahhabi orthodoxy.

The head commandant of a post in East Germany gazed fiercely at a trembling specimen before him. "I thought you told us," he barked, "that neither of your parents came from Poland!"

"They didn't," maintained the prisoner. "They're still there."

Congresswoman All Ready To Saddle Up for Campaign

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Gracie Post (D-Idaho) will be riding and walking all over her vast district, making speeches and shaking hands, riding in rodeos and competing in log-rolling contests, when Congress adjourns.

The colorful, auburn-haired congresswoman, known to her colleagues as "Hell's Belle" for her sponsorship in the House of Representatives of the Hell's Canyon Dam construction bill, isn't one to sit back and relax.

With her husband, Jack, she'll be off in her new automobile equipped for whatever contingency arises, whether it be pitching a tent for the night in a ghost mining town in the mountains, twirling a round log in a burling contest, or sharing a bit of her precious sourdough with a lumberjack family nestled in some lonely spot off the beaten track.

"She takes all of her equipment with her, ready for anything," a member of her office staff told me. "She never knows when she'll be riding in a rodeo, so she takes along her boots and riding pants and usually an orange silk shirt. She knows she couldn't be elected out there if she couldn't ride."

The congresswoman also totes along jeans and sturdy, rubber-soled shoes just in case she's challenged to a burling contest.

these items came in right handy. She found herself on a round log with Ervin H. Schwiebert, a lanky, six-foot Republican who was out to get her seat in Congress. In a burling contest, one contestant stands one way, another the other, each twirling the log with his feet, trying to out-balance each other. Gracie and Schwiebert both fell off the same time into the icy cold water. The burling judges considered it a draw. The loggers loved it.

"Of course, this was all in the interest of good, clean fun," the office secretary said, "but Gracie won the election just the same."

One Lapse May Be A Driver's Last

Hardly a day goes by but that most of us see an incident or two in motor car traffic which might easily have meant another fatality.

A Washington C. H. man told us yesterday of something that was a perfect example of how things could happen which are matters of regret to everybody concerned for a long time. He was very contrite in mentioning it because he was the one concerned.

The principal actor in the particular incident described to us is a fellow whom we shall call John Doe. What happened is worth recounting because it shows that being a good driver is a full time job.

This man John Doe is, by the rather lax standards of our present society on wheels, considered a good driver. Certainly he is a better than what we might term an average driver. He almost always stays within speed limits; he slows down to fit his driving to weather conditions; he is meticulous about stop signs and has guilt feelings if he goes through an intersection on the yellow light. Generally, he yields to other drivers rather than take unnecessary chances.

Generally — there's the rub!

The other evening, John Doe pulled up at an intersection on a medium width street. Several cars pulled up behind him waiting for the light to change. One impatient driver, instead of taking his turn in the traffic lane, sounded his horn and zoomed ahead to where he had no right to be, alongside John Doe.

Our friend's cue, as a good driver, was to swallow his annoyance and let the eager beaver zip out ahead of him; but John Doe fell from grace. When the light changed, he started up briskly and left the other offending motorist trapped by oncoming traffic.

It was a moment of petty triumph, but soon the taste of it was bitter in John Doe's mouth when he began to think of what might have happened if the other fellow had raced him away from the stop light and caused—or would it have been Mr. John Doe who caused a crash?

Fortunately the other fellow stayed back, although he was wrong in racing up beside Mr. Doe as he did. No accident occurred, but next time what might have happened could be loss of life and other damage.

The lesson's meaning is clear. Good driving has to be practised every minute that you, or any driver, is behind the steering wheel. One lapse may mean a bad injury, maybe death, not only for the driver but for others as well. One lapse maybe the last.

Rankees Oh, Ah Over Royalty

LONDON (AP)—Britain's royal family is one of the greatest sales teams in the world.

Its garden party this week for 5,000 Americans — 3,000 members of the American Bar Assn. and their relatives—was a demonstration of compelling advertising for Great Britain.

Two hours' exposure to Queen Elizabeth II, the queen mother and Prince Philip made some of the Americans ecstatic.

Cecil Burney of Corpus Christi, called the queen "a honey."

Said Charles N. Rhyne, District of Columbia, new president of the American Bar Assn.: "She's just like a Dresden doll. The queen mother is the most regal person I've ever seen in my life."

"And the prince," broke in Mrs. Rhyne, "he's just so handsome."

Said Mrs. Herbert Brownell, wife of the U.S. attorney general: "She's the Queen magnificent. She's heavenly. And he's so handsome."

John Ranck of Lancaster, Pa. smiled broadly.

"She's a real doll," he said, "and the prince is a charmer."

Mrs. Nora Snyder, of Kansas City, took a deep breath.

"I was just thrilled, absolutely thrilled to meet the prince."

The Americans who spilled out over the Buckingham Palace lawn made no secret of the fact that they came to see, meet and if possible, talk to members of the royal family.

Mrs. Benjamin Roth of Youngstown told the queen: "We have a daughter who is just like you. People are always saying she could be your twin sister."

"A wonderful, wonderful family," nodded Judge Thornton G. Berry of Welch, W. Va.

Palace officials selected in advance a number of Americans to be presented to the royal family. Others just introduced themselves.

Wave after wave of admiring Americans ignored the palace officials, broke ranks, surrounded the queen, the prince and the queen mother.

There was only one disappointing feature—the absence of Princess Margaret.

A friend said she stayed away for fear the Americans, in their frank friendliness, might have asked Margaret too many questions. Such as—what about Peter Townsend?

Weakness of Arab Nationalism

For three decades, nationalism in the United States has been played down, often as a characteristic of foreign policy, often because of the efforts of various public organizations which regard nationalism as a social evil, sometimes as a product of left-wing internationalism, sometimes because men sincerely believe that is wrong to emphasize the importance of one country over another.

This phenomenon has appeared nowhere else on the face of the earth during the same period. As a matter of fact, since the end of World War II, nationalism has become increasingly intensified throughout the world, new, small, weak and backward nations being elevated to independence and becoming members of the United Nations on a status of equality with the greatest powers.

Arabic nationalism has asserted itself to the utmost, but this form of nationalism is different from all others because Arabic nationalism assumes that all Arabic-speaking peoples, whatever their government affiliations, belong to the Arabic nation. This takes in a wide territory and a number of separate countries. It would be comparable to all English-speaking peoples regarding themselves as belonging to one country.

Arabic nationalism did not exist before the 19th century. Before Mahomet, Arabs were Jews Christians and pagans and belonged to distinct warring tribes and nationalities. After the establishment of the Caliphate, church and state were united and an Arabic state developed from central Asia to the north of Africa including Egypt. When the Osmanli Turks conquered the Arabs and established a suzerainty over them, both Arabic civilization and Islam moved into eastern Europe and for a while the eastern Mediterranean was a Moslem lake.

Modern Arabic nationalism began as an intellectual movement whose strongest advocates were not Moslems at all but Syrian and Lebanese Christians, educated at Beirut. They gained their knowledge of the principles of nationalism from their American teachers.

Most of the nationalists operated out of Egypt under British protection. Much of the early research in Islamic history and archaeology in the 19th century was done by British and American scholars.

The Arabs had for so long been an oppressed people that they had themselves forgotten their former glories.

The politicians followed the intellectuals and by the time of World War I, they too became nationalists. As Turkey had joined the Germans, it became British and American policy to support the Arabs against the Turks and at the end of World War I, new Arab states were formed by British decision.

Egypt had been occupied by the British, not in opposition to the Egyptians who were not a free people, but to safeguard the Egyptians from the Turks and the Germans. But the strongest enmity in Egypt developed against the British and this intensified as the Egyptian royal family found by Muhammad Ali (1805-48) became increasingly wasteful and futile.

In Syria, the French had a League of Nations mandate which led to bitterness. Lebanon, which is hardly an Arabic country in the strictest sense, also was under a French mandate and became antagonistic.

Saudi Arabia, founded by Great Britain, was really the achievement of Lawrence of Arabia who resurrected the Hashimite family to hold this Arab world which split up as fast as it was put together. Transjordania now called Jordan, a tiny and impoverished province, and Israel, a European-type country, including a few Arabs and governed by Jews, were both carved out by the British.

Therefore it was easy to assail the British as the enemies of Arabic nationalism which relates not to one country but to folks with a linguistic kinship. Iraq, of course, was and is the most stable of Arabic countries.

Nationalism and feudalism are not co-existent and therein lies the weakness of Arabic nationalism. Despite the great wealth that pours into some Arabic countries because of their oil deposits, feudalism, polygamy and slavery continue.

The problem that all Arab states face is the establishment of a sound system of government, consonant with the best interests and the will of their peoples. This has not been achieved anywhere. To some westerners, Nasser looked like a young hopeful, but it is obvious to the Arabs that he is troublesome upstart.

The leader of the moment seems to be King Saud, but it is doubtful that the younger generations in the various Arab countries will accept his extreme Wahhabi orthodoxy.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF
THE WIFE of a submarine commander gave birth to a beautiful baby girl in the Norfolk Hospital while her husband's craft was patrolling the Mediterranean area. This is the cable she sent him: "Ahoj, skipper. New craft successfully launched at seven bells. Tonnage: eight pounds. All shipshape. That is all, we hope. Love. Mary."

The head commandant of a post in East Germany gazed fiercely at a trembling specimen before him. "I thought you told us," he barked, "that neither of your parents came from Poland?"

"They didn't," maintained the prisoner. "They're still there."

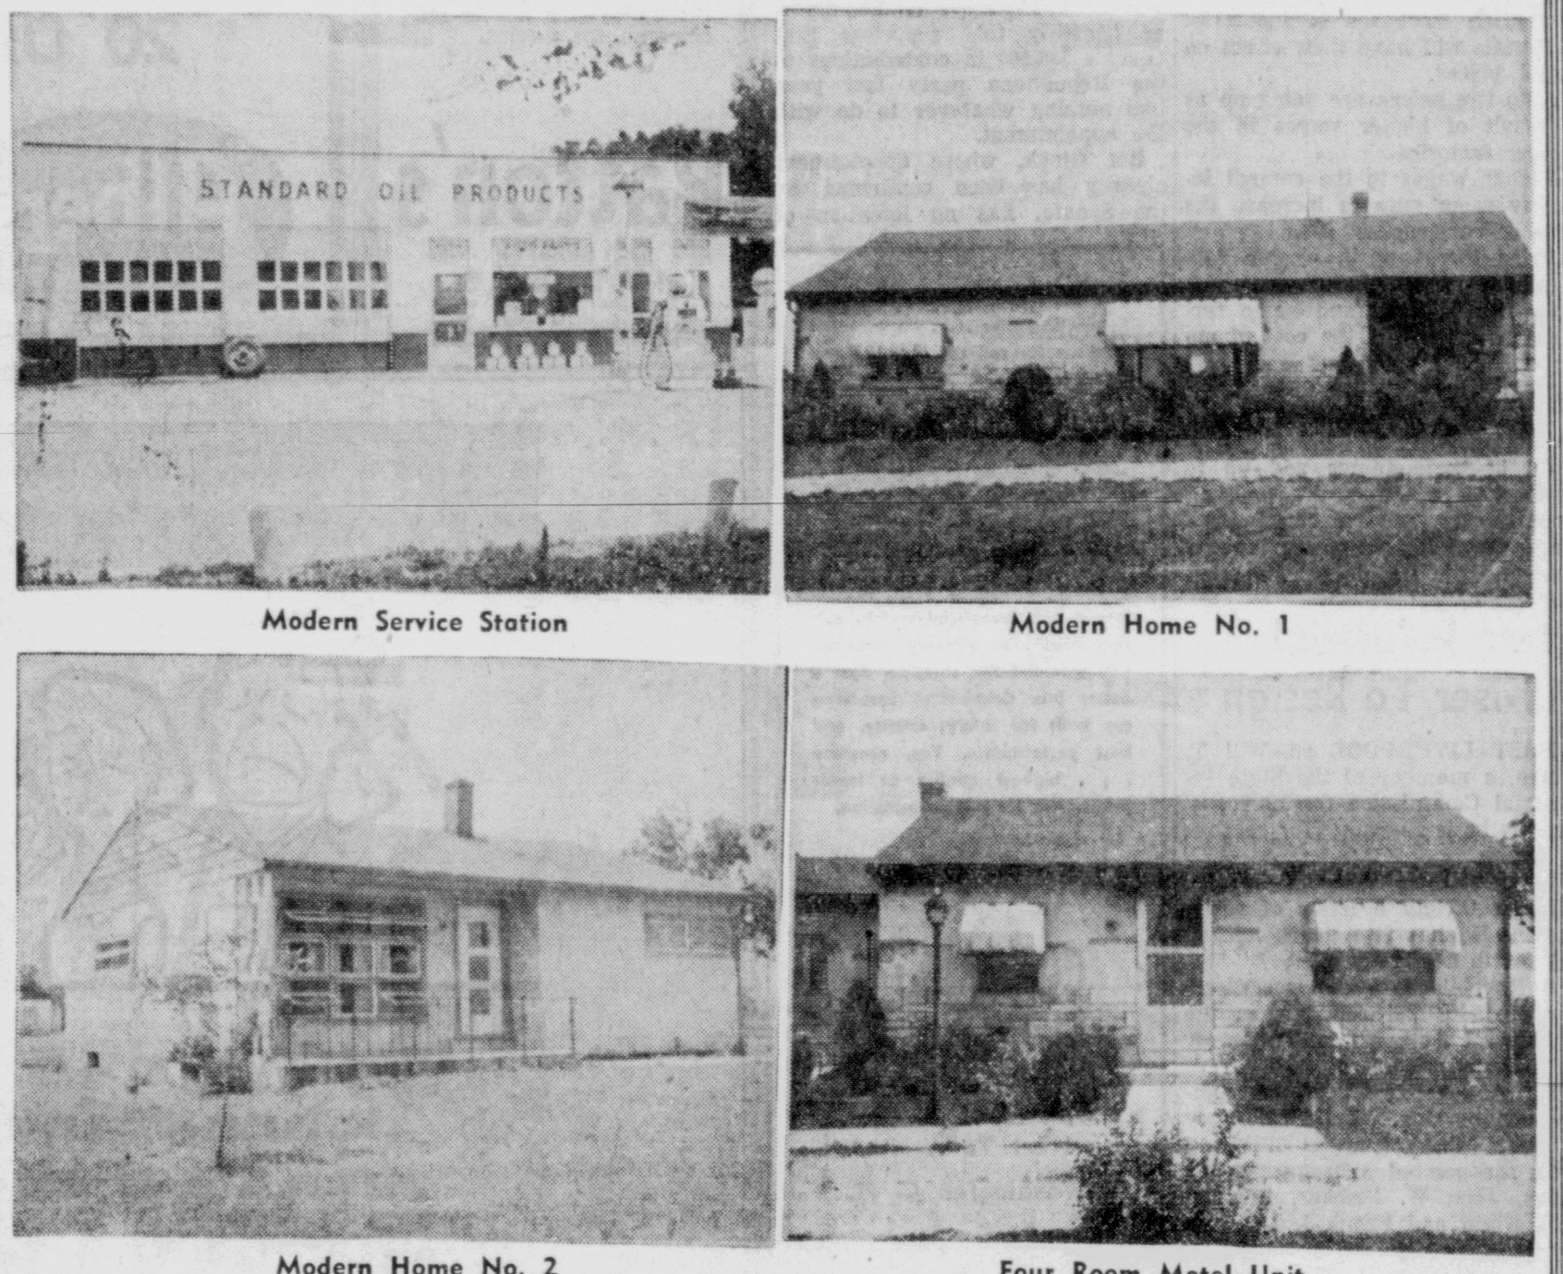

The plural of "mouse," of course, is "mice," and therefore the late Christopher Morley thought the plural of "spouse" should be "spice."

FOUR ROOM MOTEL UNIT - FIVE ACRES OF LAND NEAR WASHINGTON C. H.
TUESDAY, AUGUST 13, 1957
SELLS AT 2 P. M.
LOCATED--Four miles southeast of Washington C. H., Ohio, on U. S. Route 35 and the intersection of Camp Grove Road.

This well located business site has been developed by Mr. Vincent H. Sunderman during the past few years to a point where it is one of the outstanding businesses of its kind in this section of the state. He has spent over $60,000.00 in development costs to date. There is also an opportunity for further development including such things as a motel, restaurant, etc.

SERVICE STATION
Modern concrete block service station building, 30x60, only six years old. Concrete floors throughout; car hoist; overhead doors; forced air oil automatic heating plant; wall cabinets; complete lubrication equipment; etc. Regulation size office and two regulation size work rooms for lubricating cars, repair work and washing. Standard Oil products are handled by Mr. Sunderman at the present time but there is no continuing lease. The station can easily sell 20,000 gallons of gasoline per month. Also splendid outlet for tires, batteries and automotive accessories. Present operation has been very profitable with records to verify same. Will be kept in continuous operation until hour of sale.

TWO NEW MODERN HOMES
MODERN HOME NO. 1: Outstanding stone and stucco ranch-type with large living room, 20x14, pine-paneled, exposed beam ceiling; two large bedrooms with cross ventilation and cedar-lined closets; full bath featuring tiled walls and ceiling and colored fixtures; kitchen with all built-in equipment, pine paneled, breakfast bar with stools; dining area adjacent to the kitchen; large connecting breezeway and recreation room, 20x12, with tile flooring and jalousie windows. Garage attached to enclosed breezeway and recreation room. Desirable features in this good home include wall-to-wall carpeting in living room, bedrooms and hall; drapes; picture window in living room; marble window sills; forced air oil furnace; insulation; storm doors; screens; etc. This house is less than five years old and would cost $20,000 to replace.

MODERN HOME NO. 2: One-floor-plan with large living room, large kitchen and dining area, two bedrooms, full bath and full basement. Desirable features include air conditioning unit; full insulation; plenty of cupboard and wardrobe space; modern kitchen; 220-electric service; etc. This house is only two years old and cost approximately $10,000.00 to build.

FOUR ROOM MOTEL UNIT
Practically new motel unit consisting of two two-room units with connecting bath. Separate heating unit; wall-to-wall carpeting; cross ventilation; marble window sills; and casement windows.

FIVE ACRES OF LAND
Over 400-ft. of frontage on U. S. Route 35 and 395-ft. of frontage on Camp Grove Road. Two drilled wells furnish a never failing supply of water. Ample space for restaurant and motel developments.

INSPECTION permitted any time prior to sale.

Sale on the premises. Sells to the highest bidder.

TERMS--$7,500.00 cash at time of sale. Balance to be paid upon delivery of deed. Purchaser to receive good title and IMMEDIATE POSSESSION.

Big Names Used In TV 'Plugs'

Bing Crosby Joins List By Doing Commercials

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—A "star," as defined along Madison Avenue these days, is one who is considered worthy of pitching a TV commercial. Have you noticed?

And now Variety, the trade journal of show business, reports that Bing Crosby himself has recently finished performing in four television commercials which push home appliances.

Many people complain about commercials and claim that they don't look at them, yet the advertising sponsor money is swinging heavily to well-known names plugging the product.

The list of noted sales ladies and gentlemen includes Julie London, Martha Wright, Vaughn Monroe, Marge and Gower Champion, George Sanders, Henry Fonda, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., William Lundigan.

In Bing Crosby's case it's safe to assume he doesn't need money and it's even safer to assume he isn't doing it for a free load of home appliances.

Isn't it probable that he's doing it for the sake of what you might call exposure to the public? To remain a big show business name you have to keep your name before the public as much as possible.

Hidden Prisoner Bares Wall Crack

TIFFIN (AP)—After ordering nine prisoners to go from the bullpen to individual cells in the city jail, Patrolman William J. Paulus found one hiding in an unused cell.

A further check showed that a mortar had been loosened around blocks in the bullpen wall.

The prisoners were charges of Seneca County, but were being kept in city jail during repairs at the county jail.

He Shuns Beauty, Eyes only Pursues

CINCINNATI (AP)—Purses, and not Jayne Mansfield, the motion picture actress, attracted a Cincinnati youth to a drive-in theater here, he told police.

Other patrons rushed from their automobiles to get a look at the visiting Miss Mansfield, but not Robert Vanderpool, 18. Instead, he went to their automobiles.

Police said he had three purses in his possession when seized.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Never before have so many transients passed through Fayette County on vacations as this year.

Early and late the cars with out-of-county and out-of-state licenses are rolling through. There is a pronounced increase in the number of cars going on north and south routes, as well as those on the other main routes through the county.

I have been surprised at the big increase in traffic over U. S. 35, as well as U. S. 22 this year, and an unusually large number of cars from various southern states on both of these routes especially Route 35.

A large number of these tourists remain over night at the local hotels and half dozen motels in and near the city.

Likewise, the number patronizing the main dining rooms in the city is large. And many pleasing things they have said about the community have been overheard.

The increase in tourist travel started early last spring and will continue until early winter, as modern cars and highways make it possible to travel at nearly all times of the year.

If a check - up on tourists passing through the county this year could be made, it would show a surprisingly large number.

EIGHT NOW DECEASED

In 1936 when the City Building was remodeled, a bronze plaque was set in the south corner of it, bearing names of all city officials and many city employees.

The plaque is some 20 by 26 inches and carries names of 15 persons, eight of whom have died since it was put in place 21 years ago.

Names of those who are deceased include: City Manager G. H. Sollars; Councilmen James E. Ducey, E. E. Johnson, A. Clark Gossard, Robert H. Sites and G. W. Lewis. Lewis was police justice at the time. Also City Engineer Robert E. Willis, Police Chief Jack Wolfe.

Those surviving, whose names are on the plaque are: Max G. Dice, city solicitor; Burch Chaney, city auditor; Robert E. Hartm, city treasurer; George R. Hall, chief of the Fire Department; Jane H. Jefferson, relief director; and David Hillery, street superintendent.

RAILROADS SPRAY

During the past few weeks the railroads have had their weed spraying equipment over the routes through Fayette County and, as a result, practically all weeds on the embankments and in the roadbeds have been killed.

The various roads, with exception of the Pennsylvania, had the weeds nearly all cleared from the roadbed proper, so that the Pennsylvania sprayed to kill the weeds in the roadbed as well as on the embankments.

Before weed burners (which have been discarded because of damage resulting to the surrounding area, ties, bridges etc.) and weed sprayers were used, it was necessary to mow the embankments and cut the weeds from the roadbed.

However, with stone ballast there is now little chance of weeds bothering the roadbed proper.

The last weed burner operated by the Pennsylvania RR, was destroyed by fire at Atlanta a number of years ago.

Since that time spraying has been followed to eliminate weeds.

20 YEARS AGO

Highlighting the news 20 years ago this week was the confession of Walter Barnes 20, that he was with Everett Ed Jones, 35, of Springfield, when Jones shot and killed Robert W. Lindsey in his restaurant in Jeffersonville July 4. They had been held in Cleveland, where they were arrested for holding up a drug store.

They were released to Sheriff W. H. Icenhower and Prosecutor Newton Browning, brought here. Both pleaded not guilty to first degree murder charges. They were locked in separate cells in the county jail, and held, without bond. The pair had held up a restaurant in Jamestown prior to the murder in Jeffersonville.

All milk dealers were notified that they must sell grade A milk by Nov. 1, or face prosecution. Nearly all wheat in the county had been threshed.

Final dividend of the Peoples and Drivers Bank was to be paid Aug. 9, bringing to 62 per cent the total dividends paid. The final payment was to be $122,000.

Farm land prices increased $23 an acre from previous year, being listed at $76.91 on the basis of farm land.

Another 1,157 acres of land east of New Holland was purchased by government for resettlement purposes.

Jesse C. Hankins, 66, prominent Fayette County resident, was killed in traffic accident on street in Greenfield.

John Swaney was fatally injured when his threshing machine engine blew up with terrific force near Sedalia, causing many horses to run away, injuring several farmers and burning the separator and

Patrolman Admits Quarry Is Too Fast

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Motorcycle Patrolman Robert Shy had to admit that his quarry was too fast for him.

Another officer had stopped a 17-year - old motorist driving a "souped-up" auto for an operator's license check, but the youth pulled away and led Shy on a chase that reached 80 m.p.h. through the downtown area and 100 m.p.h. on Ohio 7 between Chesapeake and Bradrick.

Shy lost the fleeing motorist on a rural road near Bradrick. "It was too fast for anyone, including me," the officer commented.

In 1936 when the City Building was remodeled, a bronze plaque was set in the south corner of it, bearing names of all city officials and many city employees.

The plaque is some 20 by 26 inches and carries names of 15 persons, eight of whom have died since it was put in place 21 years ago.

Names of those who are deceased include: City Manager G. H. Sollars; Councilmen James E. Ducey, E. E. Johnson, A. Clark Gossard, Robert H. Sites and G. W. Lewis. Lewis was police justice at the time. Also City Engineer Robert E. Willis, Police Chief Jack Wolfe.

Those surviving, whose names are on the plaque are: Max G. Dice, city solicitor; Burch Chaney, city auditor; Robert E. Hartman, city treasurer; George R. Hall, chief of the Fire Department; Jane H. Jefferson, relief director, and David Hillery, street superintendent.

RAILROADS SPRAY

During the past few weeks the railroads have had their weed spraying equipment over the routes through Fayette County and, as a result, practically all weeds on the embankments and in the roadbeds have been killed.

The various roads, with exception of the Pennsylvania, had the weeds nearly all cleared from the roadbed proper, so that the Pennsylvania sprayed to kill the weeds in the roadbed as well as on the embankments.

Before weed burners (which have been discarded because of damage resulting to the surrounding area, ties, bridges etc.) and weed sprayers were used, it was necessary to mow the embankments and cut the weeds from the roadbed.

However, with stone ballast there is now little chance of weeds bothering the roadbed proper.

The last weed burner operated by the Pennsylvania RR, was destroyed by fire at Atlanta a number of years ago.

Since that time spraying has been followed to eliminate weeds.

20 YEARS AGO

Highlighting the news 20 years ago this week was the confession of Walter Barnes 20, that he was with Everett Ed Jones, 35, of Springfield, when Jones shot and killed Robert W. Lindsey in his restaurant in Jeffersonville July 4. They had been held in Cleveland, where they were arrested for holding up a drug store.

They were released to Sheriff W. H. Icenhower and Prosecutor Newton Browning, brought here. Both pleaded not guilty to first degree murder charges. They were locked in separate cells in the county jail, and held without bond. The pair had held up a restaurant in Jamestown prior to the murder in Jeffersonville.

All milk dealers were notified that they must sell grade A milk by Nov. 1, or face prosecution.

Nearly all wheat in the county had been threshed.

Final dividend of the Peoples and Drivers Bank was to be paid Aug. 9, bringing to 62 per cent the total dividends paid. The final payment was to be $122,000.

Farm land prices increased $23 an acre from previous year, being listed at $76.91 on the basis of farm land.

Another 1,157 acres of land east of New Holland was purchased by government for resettlement purposes.

Jesse C. Hankins, 66, prominent Fayette County resident, was killed in traffic accident on street in Greenfield.

John Swaney was fatally injured when his threshing machine engine blew up with terrific force near Sedalia, causing many horses to run away, injuring several farmers and burning the separator and straw rick. A faulty water gauge was responsible for the explosion.

Section of Route 35 east of the Good Hope Rd. junction, blew up entirely across the road.

Pennsylvania R.R. weed burner, operated at night, resulted in fire alarm being turned in when someone mistook the blaze for burning building.

Patrolman Admits Quarry Is Too Fast

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Motorcycle Patrolman Robert Shy had to admit that his quarry was too fast for him.

Another officer had stopped a 17-year - old motorist driving a "souped-up" auto for an operator's license check, but the youth pulled away and led Shy on a chase that reached 80 m.p.h. through the downtown area and 100 m.p.h. on Ohio 7 between Chesapeake and Bradrick.

Shy lost the fleeing motorist on a rural road near Bradrick, "It was too fast for anyone, including me," the officer commented.

Missionary Group Meets At McCoy Home

Mrs. Thane McCoy entertained 19 members of the Missionary Society of Bloomingburg Presbyterian Church at her home Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Anna Groff conducted the devotion and used as her theme "The Brotherhood and Race." Mrs. John Glenn read an article entitled "The Fellowship of the Least Coin."

During the business session, the president, Mrs. Thomas Parrett, announced the district meeting will be held Oct. 4 at the Presbyterian Church in Washington C. H., and the retreat conference will be held Sept. 6 at Plain City Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Harry Craig chose as her program theme "Everyday People."

After the program Mrs. Arthur Engle read names of missionaries serving in foreign lands, and Mrs. Craig offered prayer for them.

Mrs. Glenn assisted the hostess in serving refreshments and a social hour followed.

Willing Workers Holds Meeting

Mrs. Cleon Coe, Mrs. Byron Rader and Mrs. Leo Allen were appointed as a nominating committee by Mrs. Russell Garinger, vice president of the Bookwalter Willing Workers, when the group met at the home of Mrs. Dan Warner Thursday afternoon. Nineteen members and three guests, Mrs. Donald Coe, Mrs. Irvin Bowen and Mrs. La'an Pierce, were present.

Mrs. Clayton Whiteside conducted the devotion.

During the afternoon members counted tax stamps and recorded their voices on a tape recorder.

Mrs. Raymond Geer assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

NORVAL A. CAMPBELL

Missionary To Speak At Christian Church

Norval A. Campbell, a missionary who is the "living link" between the First Christian Church here and the Far East, will take part in three programs at the church here Sunday.

Campbell is part of the Christian Church's worldwide "living link" program, whereby individual churches in this country support individual missionaries abroad.

He has been working for the past four years in the establishment of a Bible Seminary at Aparri in the Philippines. There are 80 native students enrolled there to be ministers for the Church of Christ in the Philippines.

THOUGH HE is a native of Indiana, his mother, Mrs. Fern Campbell, makes her home at 740 E. Market St. here and his brother, Thurl Campbell, lives on Locust Grove Rd. He will make his headquarters here during his upcoming 12-month furlough in this country, and his children, Philip and Charlotte, "may" attend school here this winter.

"The Gospel in the Philippines" is the topic of a message Campbell will deliver before the entire church here at 10:30 a. m. Sunday. He will present a program at 7:30 p. m. on his work in the islands.

The family will also visit the Bible School at 9:30 a. m. They are expected to attend a fellowship dinner at 6 p. m. preceding the evening program. The Rev. Don McMillin is pastor of the church here.

Little Delaware Provides Chiefs for 2 Leading Clubs

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Little Delaware has taken over the spotlight from big Texas this year in providing presidents for two of the top clubs for congressional wives.

Mrs. John Williams, wife of the Republican senator from Delaware, is president of the Congressional Club, which this year celebrates its 50th anniversary. Mrs. J. Allen Frear, wife of the Democratic senator from the state, is the new president of the Women's National Democratic Club. Last year two Texans headed the clubs.

Mrs. Omar Burleson, wife of the Democratic congressman, piloted the activities of the Congressional Club. Mrs. Mastin G. White, wife of one of the commissioners of the U. S. Court of Claims, was president of the Women's National Democratic Club.

Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Frear both have already lined up ambitious programs for the year ahead.

Mrs. Williams calls hers the "golden year." Plans include a "Golden Anniversary" breakfast in the spring, with Mamie Eisenhower as honor guest, a Friday afternoon program built around "50 years ago" with costumes, exhibits, skits, slogans and songs, and a brunch for Mrs. Albert Carter, wife of a former California congressman who helped get the club into business back in 1908.

Mrs. Williams, who is spending the summer at Rehoboth Beach, Del., is entertaining committee members at her resort residence while planning the activities for season, which she says will begin with a big luncheon at the club's handsome headquarters here Jan. 9.

Probably next on the calendar of the club, which was set up by an act of Congress in 1902, and boasts an active membership of more than 500, will be the traditional welcoming reception for new members of Congress.

The golden theme will be carried out in detail throughout the Congressional Club year. Even the membership listing and program booklet will be golden. The cook-book with the members' favorite recipes printed in their own handwriting, a big money-raiser for club coffers, will be the same as this year's but will have a new cover and an inside page dedicated to the anniversary and the history of the club.

Otterbein Prexy Is Named Bishop

DAYTON (AP)—Dr. J. Gordon Howard, president of Otterbein College since 1945, has been named bishop of Pittsburgh in the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

He succeeds Dr. Paul E. V. Shannon who died in May. Dr. Shannon assumed the post only last December when Bishop, Dave T. Gregory was killed in an automobile accident.

Dr. Howard will direct the church's east central area, including the Virginia, Florida, West Virginia, Western Pennsylvania, Erie and New York conferences.

Musial, Jones Set Pace for Card Victory

'The Man' Booms Bat, 'Sad Sam' Pitches a Shutout Over Giants

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Stan (The Man) Musial and Sad Sam Jones, an example of the old standbys and new faces who have made the St. Louis Cardinals hum, have the Redbirds perched atop the National League standings again.

Musial, 4-for-4 with a pair of two-run homers, and Jones, pitching a six-hit shutout, were all the Cards needed to move two percentage points past idle Milwaukee Thursday night. But the Red Birds won it big, banging 16 hits against the New York Giants for an 8-0 job and their sixth straight success.

Brooklyn is third, 1 1/2 games behind, after rapping the Chicago Cubs 12-3. Gil Hodges set a NL record with the 13th bases-loaded home run of his 12-year career.

Cincinnati reclaimed fourth place from Philadelphia, rallying to beat the Phils 4-3.

In the American League, it's New York by four games after Washington bumped the second-place Chicago White Sox 5-4 while the Yankees were idle. Detroit gained a share of fourth place with Cleveland by defeating Boston 7-5 in the only other game.

Musial, who retired after six innings, passed Ty Cobb and took third place behind Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig with 1,140 extra-base hits in his 16-year career.

Stan, who also singled twice, put it away fast, tagging a first-inning pitch from southpaw Johnny Antonelli, now 10-11, for his first homer, then giving the Cards a 6-0 lead in the sixth with the second, off lefty reliever Jim Constance after Jones had doubled. Jones, a 31-year-old righthander who has gained control since joining the Cards in a December deal with the Cubs, walked only one, struck out four and had a four-hitter for eight innings while gaining a 9-4 record.

The Dodgers, matching St. Louis' 21-10 record in the last 31 games, rapped 18 hits off loser Tom Poholsky and three relievers as the Cubs chipped in six errors. Sandy Koufax won his fifth with a four-hitter and 11 strikeouts.

Hodges drove in five runs and locked it up with his big smash off southpaw Dick Littlefield in the fifth after Ernie Banks' three-run homer had whittled the Brook lead.

It was Hodges' second grand-slammer of the year and bettered the mark held by Rogers Hornsby and Ralph Kiner. Gehrig set the major league mark with 23 Boston's Ted Williams tops active players with 14.

Curt Simmons, backed up by homers from Stan Lopata and Rip Repulski, had a four-hitter and a 3-1 lead until the Redlegs cut loose for three runs in the eighth to hand the Phillies' southpaw a seventh defeat. Ernie Bailey's sacrifice fly scored the clincher. Johnny Klippstein won in relief.

Roy Sievers hit his fourth home run in four games to trigger a three-run sixth that beat the White Sox, who had built a 4-0 lead on Larry Doby's first grand-slammer since 1953. It was Sievers' 28th homer of the year and his 11th against the Sox—putting him within reach of the major league record of 14 against one club set by Gehrig against Cleveland in 1936. Sievers has five more games against Chicago.

Chuck Stobbs, 5-14, won it with relief help. Bill Fischer lost it.

The Tigers scored three in the ninth for a 7-1 lead, but Duke Maas needed relief from Harry Byrd and Frank Lary to win his eighth. Frank Malzone's two-run homer made it a four-run ninth for the Sox and Lary came on with two on and none out to get Norm Zaichin on a doubleplay ball and fan Ted Lepcio. Mike Fornieles was the loser.

Redlegs Eye Deficit in Lost Column

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs are back in fourth place in the National League, only 3 1/2 games out of first, but their plight still is on the serious side.

A come from behind 4-3 victory over Philadelphia Thursday night enabled them to move ahead of the Phils in the standings.

The Reds, however, have lost four more games than front-running St. Louis, three more than second-place Milwaukee and two more than third-place Brooklyn. And the season rapidly is approaching the stage where those "games lost" become important.

For seven innings Thursday night it looked as if the Reds were going to fall farther behind in the pennant race. Curt Simmons had allowed them only one run and four hits.

The Rhinelanders suddenly teed off in the eighth, however, for the three runs that brought victory. Simmons never got a man out in that frame as Johnny Temple singled, Gus Bell doubled, Frank Robinson was safe on a fielder's choice and Wally Post singled. That accounted for two runs.

Warren Hacker and Seth Morehead quickly followed Simmons to the mound in strategy moves to pitch a right hander against a right handed hitter and a southpaw against a left handed hitter. But Smokey Burgess beat out an infield off Morehead and Ed Bailey's sacrifice fly brought in the winning run.

A double by Roy McMillan, a walk, a safe bunt and Bell's sacrifice fly had accounted for Cincinnati's earlier run.

Brodie Applauded

CHICAGO (AP)—John Brodie, Stanford's classy field general, stole the limelight Thursday as All-Star Coach Curly Lambeau put his quarterback crew through a passing drill.

Brodie's short and long tosses highlighted the drill at Northwestern's Dyche Stadium. Notre Dame's Paul Hornung, Jim Harris of Oklahoma and Purdue's Len Dawson also showed up well for the collegians.

Flashes Edge Jets In Little League

The Flashes jumped on the Jets' All Star lefty, Mike Burris, for 7 hits and as many runs at Wilson Field Thursday evening as they edged the cellar dwellers, 7-6.

In mathematically eliminating the Jets from the second round flag race, the Flashes scored in every inning except the third with 3 coming in the second.

Although the Jets lost, they gave an excellent slugging exhibition. Juillerat was the leader with a pair of homers and four RBIs while Ronnie Jones and Mike Kelley had three hits each. Kelley had a pair of doubles among his assortment of hits.

Redlegs Win First Game of Season

The Redlegs gained their first Little Minor League victory when they downed the Rockets, 10-5.

The game was called at 6:45 p. m. with the sixth inning not yet completed. The score stood at 10-9 in favor of the Redlegs, but the Rockets were threatening with two men on and two out. The score reverted back to the last complete inning of play, in this case the sixth, and the score at that time, 10-5.

Jones led the Rockets' hitters with a homer, triple and single while Marlin of the Reds had a homer, double and single.

The Lineups were: Rockets—Dodds, Anderson, McNutt, Frederick, Wilson, Scott, Vrettos, Jones, Durlinger, Iles, Simpson, Leaverton.

Redlegs—Kearns, Lindsay, Marlin, Penwell, Orner, Flowers, Kelley, Blade, Bennett, Dieber, Gatewood, Streitenberger, Wilson, Downs.

Musial Moves Up In Hitting Ranks

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Stan (The Man) Musial moved up again among Major League baseball's all-time hitting greats Thursday night, moving past Ty Cobb into third place in extra-base hits with 1,140. Musial, in his 16th season, bettered Cobb's 1,139 total for 24 seasons with a pair of two-run homers in a perfect 4-for-4 night as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated New York's Giants 8-0 to regain the National League lead.

Hoosier, 18, May End Up Publinx King

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—One of the most exciting young golfers in several years has turned up in the National Public Links championship, a tournament which doesn't ordinarily produce great golfers.

He is 18-year-old Don Essig of Indianapolis who might come out Saturday night as the youngest Publinx winner in 31 years.

Don isn't exactly an unknown in the public links and the U. S. Junior Amateur as far back as 1954. And he reached the fourth round of the pay-as-you-go championship two years ago. This summer he has won the Western Junior and Indiana State Junior titles plus some local events.

At 18 Essig showed clear signs of golfing maturity when he beat Junie Buxbaum of Memphis, Tenn., the defending champion who is more than twice his age.

13th Win Scored By Hot Main Team

The Main nine rolled to its 13th victory in the Little Minor League Thursday evening by drubbing the White Sox, 8-2.

Richard Long and Chuck Snyder combined their efforts to hold the White Sox batsmen to one hit and two runs.

David Leeth got the only hit for the losers. Lusty slugging was provided for the Main team by Pat Preston, Randy Dillard and Richard Long, each of whom got two hits. Among Prestons two hits was a two-run homer.

The Lineups were: Main—Perrord, Washburn, Link, Long, Coldsberry, Preston, Dillard, Lentz, Foraker, Justice, McMurtry, Satchell, Shoults, Snyder.

White Sox—Clay, Bailey, Showalter, Gentry, Leeth, Pavey, Wolford, McCullough, Knisley, Graves, Bolton, Sheridan.

Side Struck Out In Every Inning

Wizard hurler Jim Everhart struck out the side in every inning at Wilson Field Thursday evening as his team trounced the Thunderbirds, 11-1, in a three inning. Everhart registered one of the best Little Minor League hurling efforts this year.

The Wizards won on 5 hits, one each by Warner, Everhart, Stepler, Oyer and Starkey.

The Lineups were: Wizards—Bach, Mack, Stratton, Warner, Everhart, Stepler, Oyer, Starkey, Tremlett, Zimmerman, Turner, McCoy, Osborne and Leach.

Thunderbirds—Anders, Cline, Fortier, Snyder, Puckett, Coldiron, Stoeckenberg, O. Anders, Morris, Brown, Brookes and Stolzenberg.

Second in a Row Won by Good Hope

A bunch of upset-minded Good Hope boys won their second straight game Thursday evening as they edged the Seals, 7-6 in a Babe Ruth game at the community park.

The Good Hopers, currently cellar dwellers but coming on fast, belted Seal hurling hard and often. Leading the winners' 12-hit onslaught were Don Strouth with three, and Mike Newman, Bryan Frock and Jerry Hoppes, with two each. Strouth and Newman each cracked out two doubles.

Corky Wilt and Bill Batson had two hits apiece for the losers.

Bloomington Wins Second Girls Game

The Bloomington girls chalked up their second win of the softball tournament when they downed the Jeffersonville team, 14 to 6, at the community park.

The Bloomington outfit continued its consistent hitting, collecting 23 safeties. The Jeffersonville girls, however, had trouble connecting with the offerings of Patty Weaver.

The lineups (times at bat, runs and hits) were:

Bloomington—Redden 5-2-3; Weaver 5-2-3; Craig 5-2-3; Evans 5-2-2; E. Harris 4-1-4; V. Harris 4-2-3; Smith 4-1-2; M. Harris 4-0-0 and Halthcock 4-2-2.

Machen Promoted by 'Ring' As Top Heavy Contender
NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson's tenth round technical knockout of Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson won "fighter of the month" honors for the heavyweight champion and dropped the Hurricane from the top contender's position.
Eddie Machen, undefeated Redding, Calif., puncher, was promoted to the No. 1 spot in the latest Ring Magazine ratings released today.
In another change, light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, preparing for a title defense against Tony Anthony, was dropped from the heavyweight list and replaced by Alex Miteff, undefeated Argentine. Miteff was given the 10th position as he made the elite list for the first time.
There were wholesale changes in the welterweight division where former champion Kid Gavilan of Cuba and veteran Gil Turner of Philadelphia climbed back into the rankings.

Musial, Jones Set Pace for Card Victory

'The Man' Booms Bat, 'Sad Sam' Pitches a Shutout Over Giants

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Stan (The Man) Musial and Sad Sam Jones, an example of the old standbys and new faces who have made the St. Louis Cardinals hum, have the Redbirds perched atop the National League standings again.

Musial, 4-for-4 with a pair of two-run homers, and Jones, pitching a six-hit shutout, were all the Cards needed to move two percentage points past idle Milwaukee Thursday night. But the Red Birds won it big, banging 16 hits against the New York Giants for an 8-0 job and their sixth straight success.

Brooklyn is third, 1½ games behind, after rapping the Chicago Cubs 12-3. Gil Hodges set a NL record with the 13th bases-loaded home run of his 12-year career.

Cincinnati reclaimed fourth place from Philadelphia, rallying to beat the Phils 4-3.

In the American League, it's New York by four games after Washington bumped the second-place Chicago White Sox 5-4 while the Yankees were idle. Detroit gained a share of fourth place with Cleveland by defeating Boston 7-5 in the only other game.

Musial, who retired after six innings, passed Ty Cobb and took third place behind Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig with 1,140 extra-base hits in his 16-year career.

Stan, who also singled twice, put it away fast, tagging a first-inning pitch from southpaw Johnny Antonelli, now 10-11, for his first homer, then giving the Cards a 6-0 lead in the sixth with his second, off lefty reliever Jim Constance after Jones had doubled.

Jones, a 31-year-old righthander who has gained control since joining the Cards in a December deal with the Cubs, walked only one, struck out four and had a four-hitter for eight innings while gaining a 9-4 record.

The Dodgers, matching St. Louis' 21-10 record in the last 31 games, rapped 18 hits off loser Tom Poholsky and three relievers as the Cubs chipped in six errors.

Sandy Koufax won his fifth with a four-hitter and 11 strikeouts. Hodges drove in five runs and locked it up with his big smash off southpaw Dick Littlefield in the fifth after Ernie Banks' three-run homer had whittled the Brook lead.

It was Hodges' second grand-slammer of the year and bettered the mark held by Rogers Hornsby and Ralph Kiner. Gehrig set the major league mark with 23. Boston's Ted Williams tops active players with 14.

Curt Simmons, backed up by homers from Stan Lopata and Rip Repulski, had a four-hitter and a 3-1 lead until the Redlegs cut loose for three runs in the eighth to hand the Phillies' southpaw a seventh defeat. Er Bailey's sacrifice fly scored the clincher. Johnny Klippstein won in relief.

Roy Sievers hit his fourth home run in four games to trigger a three-run sixth that beat the White Sox, who had built a 4-0 lead on Larry Doby's first grand-slammer since 1933. It was Sievers' 28th homer of the year and his 11th against the Sox—putting him within reach of the major league record of 14 against one club set by Gehrig against Cleveland in 1936. Sievers has five more games against Chicago.

Chuck Stobbs, 5-14, won it with relief help. Bill Fischer lost it.

The Tigers scored three in the ninth for a 7-1 lead, but Duke Maas needed relief from Harry Byrd and Frank Lary to win his eighth. Frank Malzone's two-on homer made it a four-run ninth for the Sox and Lary came on with two on and none out to get Norm Zaucha on a doubleplay ball and fan Ted Lepcio. Mike Fornieles was the loser.

The Main nine rolled to its 13th victory in the Little Minor League Thursday evening by drubbing the White Sox, 8-2.

Richard Long and Chuck Snyder combined their efforts to hold the White Sox batsmen to one hit and two runs.

David Leeth got the only hit for the losers. Lusty slugging was provided for the Main team by Pat Preston, Randy Dillard and Richard Long, each of whom got two hits. Among Prestons two hits was a two-run homer.

The Lineups were: Main—Penrod, Washburn, Link, Long, Coldsberry, Preston, Dillard, Lentz, Foraker, Justice, McMurry, Satchell, Shoults, Snyder.

White Sox—Clay, Bailey, Showalter, Gentry, Leeth, Pavey, Wolford, McCullough, Knisley, Graves, Bolton, Sheridan.

Second in a Row Won by Good Hope
A bunch of upset-minded Good Hope boys won their second straight game Thursday evening as they edged the Seals, 7-6 in a Babe Ruth game at the community park.

The Good Hoppers, currently cellar dwellers but coming on fast, belted Seal hurling hard and often. Leading the winners' 12-hit onslaught were Don Strouth with three, and Mike Newman, Bryan Frock and Jerry Hoppes, with two each. Strouth and Newman each cracked out two doubles.

Corky Wilt and Bill Batson had two hits apiece for the losers.

Flashes Edge Jets In Little League

The Flashes jumped on the Jets' All Star lefty, Mike Burris, for 7 hits and as many runs at Wilson Field Thursday evening as they edged the cellar dwellers, 7-6.

In mathematically eliminating the Jets from the second round flag race, the Flashes scored in every inning except the third with 3 coming in the second.

Although the Jets lost, they gave an excellent slugging exhibition. Juillerat was the leader with a pair of homers and four RBIs while Ronnie Jones and Mike Kelley had three hits each. Kelley had a pair of doubles among his assortment of hits.

He is 18-year-old Don Essig of Indianapolis who might come out Saturday night as the youngest Publinx winner in 31 years.

Don isn't exactly an unknown in golf. He was winning matches in the public links and the U. S. Junior Amateur as far back as 1954.

And he reached the fourth round of the pay-as-you-go championship two years ago. This summer he has won the Western Junior and Indiana State Junior titles plus some local events.

At 18 Essig showed clear signs of golfing maturity when he beat Junie Buxbaum of Memphis, Tenn., the defending champion who is more than twice his age.

Hoosier, 18, May End Up Publinx King

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—One of the most exciting young golfers in several years has turned up in the National Public Links championship, a tournament which doesn't ordinarily produce great golfers.

He is 18-year-old Don Essig of Indianapolis who might come out Saturday night as the youngest Publinx winner in 31 years.

Don isn't exactly an unknown in golf. He was winning matches in the public links and the U. S. Junior Amateur as far back as 1954.

Pennsylvania Nuns Form Rifle Team

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP)—Nuns attending summer school at Villanova University have organized a rifle team.

The nuns, most of them Philadelphia parochial school teachers, use the NROTC facilities at the college. School officials say they are surprisingly good shots.

The Villanova, campus weekly ran a poem by one of the nuns, entitled, "Rifle Rhyme."

It reads:

Now Is The Time!

The old saying: "Never put off until tomorrow what you should do today" is very true today. In our language it means: TRADE AUTOMOBILES TODAY.

The weather is perfect, wages are good. Hog prices are booming, crops and pastures are excellent. All these added together, puts everyone in a good frame of mind. Only one thing lacking to make it perfect. Buy a new Chevrolet or Buick and you'll feel like a king or queen.

That sweet smooth and sassy Chevrolet will remind you of the old days when you were breaking a colt to drive and the ride you get in a Buick is the most relaxing thing you can do.

Come out, let us show and demonstrate these fine cars.

We will make every effort to deal with you.

Offices air conditioned for your comfort.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Fewer Arrests Made in July

City Arrests Six Below June Total

Washington, C. H. was a somewhat more peaceful place in which to live during July than during June, if police records are any indication.

A total of 161 arrests were made here during the first full month of summer, as contrasted with 167 the previous month.

And—more indicative—substantial numbers of the July arrests were for such offenses as speeding and running stop signs. Charges like assault and disturbing the peace occupied a much less prominent place on the July blotter than they did during June.

Records show that 70 speeders were arrested last month, and only 58 during June. A total of 16 people were arrested for running stop signs in June and that total climbed to 29 during July.

MEANWHILE, assault and disorderly conduct arrests were down all the way from 21 during June to seven during July.

Only one drunk driver was arrested here last month—the lowest total since the city's new alcometer was installed.

Arrested for intoxication were 17 people. Ten were booked for running red lights, five were brought in for reckless operation, while six truck drivers came up on charges of making excessive noise.

Three persons were arrested for disturbing the peace.

Charges that brought two people each before municipal court were improper licensing, driving a motor vehicle without the owner's consent, petty larceny and kidnapping. The latter involved two Cincinnati men later turned over to federal authorities.

Arrests appearing once each were drunkenness plus disorderly conduct, auto theft, and driving with defective brakes.

Kentucky Driver Fined $35, Costs

A Kentucky man who had been held in county jail for 36 hours while "some kinds in his auto registration" were checked out, was released Friday morning after paying a reckless driving fine in Municipal Court.

Officials in the Sheriff Orland Hays' office said the registration of Curtis Burton, 28, of Grayson, Ky., "seems in order." A check was requested from Kentucky officials after Burton was involved in an accident Wednesday night.

He was fined $35 and costs by Judge Max G. Dice, who suspended $10 of the fine provided Burton make restitution for damage to a fence owned by Milt Sollars of Eber.

AT THE SAME session Margaret Gordon, 48, of Wilmington, was fined $5 and costs, the fine suspended, after pleading guilty to speeding.

Forfeiting bonds for failure to appear on speeding charges were: Charles White, 28, Dayton, $20; Samuel Barranco, 45, Richmond, Ind., $20;

Jasper Flowers, 43, 830 Sycamore St., $15;

Clarence Christman, 30, 1117 Lakeview, $20.

Postal Receipts Show Increase

Superintendent of Mails Frank E. Boylan announced Friday that postal receipts for the month (28 days) ending July 26 totaled $11,657.82. Boylan reported this to be an increase of $790.91 over last year's July (31 days) receipts which totaled $10,866.91.

"The receipts are lower than we have been having," Boylan said, "due, probably, to the usual summer slump."

No Date Established For Wilson To Quit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles E. Wilson has been talking with his boss about a successor in the job of secretary of defense.

But, says the 67-year-old defense chief, no date has been decided yet for his resignation. In office for 4 years, he already has held the post more than twice as long as any predecessor.

Dances at Park Resume Tonight

Crowds Increase Week after Week

After skipping last Friday for the Fair, the series of Friday night dances at the community park on Oakland Ave. will be resumed tonight.

The Wayne Progressive Farmers 4-H club will be the sponsor of this fifth of the 50-50 dances on the all-purpose court.

There will be what is commonly termed "live music" tonight for the first time. It will be provided by Corwin Ellars. Ellars and a member of the orchestra will call the formations for the square dances.

Half of the dances will be square dances and the other half the "round," ballroom-type, dances. The music is to start at 8:30 and continue until 11:30.

The dance series is a part of the community recreation program.

SINCE THERE is no admission charge, Fred Domenico, the recreation director, said there was no way of knowing accurately how many attend the dances. However, he said without hesitancy that the crowds have been getting successively bigger. Of the last dance, on July 19, Domenico said "there were well over 1,000 there."

Everyone connected with the recreation program is happy over the way the dance series is turning out, particularly over the way people of all ages have been going and having a good time together. In the groups have been many parents and their children.

The first four sponsors were adult groups and now, Domenico pointed out, the fifth sponsor will be a 4-H club of young people. In his opinion, this points up the all-inclusive makeup of the crowds. Domenico also commented that there has been an intermingling of people from the farms, villages and city, all enjoying the evening together without regard to place of residence.

Route 35 Assn. To Name Officers

Directors of the U. S. Route 35 Association will meet in Chillicothe Monday night to complete organization details. The directors will review a newly made movie showing traffic hazards on the route.

First on the agenda will be the selection of permanent officers from the board's membership. The organization has 10 directors, two each from five southern Ohio counties. They are Joe D. Miller and Miles T. Epling, Gallia County; Robert W. Talbot and Ed Chapman, Jr., Jackson County; Guy Brown and William Ringwald, Jr., Ross County; James Parkinson and Walter Morrow, Fayette County; Jack Jordan and Gordon Wolfangel, Green County. Appointments were made through local Chamber of Commerce groups in each county traversed by Route 35.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Carol Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. William Looker, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Anschutz and Walter Rogers.

Roy Woodrow Still in Hospital While Benefit Game Planned

While Roy Woodrow of the Jasper-Coil Rd. remains in Grant Hospital, Columbus, recovering from injuries received in Southwestern Ohio (SWO) League baseball game in Columbus last Sunday afternoon, plans for a benefit program of baseball and softball games were taking form.

Tommy Smalley, manager of the Washington C. H. Athletics, said he received a letter from Cliff Marvin, manager of the Columbus All Stars, Thursday, saying he and the All Stars had just about completed arrangements for the benefit program, which will be put on in Columbus "some Saturday night" in the future.

Woodrow, third baseman for the Athletics, and William Wardel, the left fielder, collided head-on when they both went after a fly ball in short left field last Sunday afternoon in a game between the Athletics and All Stars. Both were taken to Grant Hospital in an ambulance from the Fire Department.

WOODROW suffered severe multiple lacerations about his face, a broken jaw and a concussion. It was said at the hospital Friday noon that he has regained consciousness and that his condition now is "good." However, friends from here who have visited him, said they understood he would not be released from the hospital for some time, possibly three weeks.

Wardel, who played with the Athletics although his home is in Columbus, was severely cut about the face, also, but was released about midnight Sunday.

Smalley said Marvin told him in his letter that the benefit program probably would include a baseball game between the All Stars and the Picard Paint team of the Heart of Ohio League and two softball games between Columbus teams. Three softball teams have been lined up, he said: Westinghouse, Jeffrey and Bart's Bar.

THE GAMES will be played, he said, at Sunshine Park on Route 104, a short distance south (turn right at traffic light) of Mound St.

Which Saturday night the games will be played has not been decided, Smalley said and added that he and Woodrow's team mates also are planning a benefit game here, although no details have been worked out.

Smalley pointed out that no team insurance is carried on the players. Woodrow, he said, had been working at an industrial plant in Columbus and in addition to losing time from his job, will be faced with hospital and doctor bills when he recovers.

Incidentally, the Athletics will play the Greenfield team of the SWO at the park here Sunday afternoon.

Truckers Held After Mishaps

Sabina Man Hits Gas Hauler, Tree

A Sabina man was charged with drunken driving after his small truck smashed the rear of a gas line hauler, careened off a tree and traveled a block away from Columbus Ave. and Delaware St. about 9:35 a. m. Friday.

Police said they were holding Howard Williamson, 43, of Sabina, after an alcometer test. He was also charged with failure to stop within assured clear distance.

Williamson was headed east on Columbus Ave. when the gasoline truck, driven by John W. Briggs of Route 2, Washington C. H., stopped in front of him at the Delaware St. traffic light.

WITNESSES said Williamson hit the back of the other truck, bounced to the side of the street where he collided with a tree, then drove a block east and stopped just around the corner on Willard St. The front wheels of his vehicle were pointed in opposite directions when the vehicle came to rest.

Damage, other than to the wheels was slight.

Another man, Robert Cosgray, 28, Columbus delivery trucker, was charged with failure to yield the right of way just minutes before and only few blocks away. He allegedly went through an Elm St. stop sign and his car was struck by another driven by Hays Watson, 61, of 1019 Cedar St.

Watson was headed west on Willard St. when the mishap occurred. He was examined by a physician but deemed uninjured.

Both Cosgray and Williamson were cited for Monday court appearance.

Traveling House At New Address

The former First Baptist Church parsonage and Sunday School building is nearing its new Worley St. address today. During the relatively cool hours of the early morning, the house was pulled onto Worley St. and by noon it was being swung around to be placed over the already excavated basement. Perry Lynn, in charge of the moving project, said he hoped traffic could go over Worley St. by late this afternoon or Saturday morning.

Dillon Is Appointed As Hospital Chieftain

COLUMBUS (AP)—Dr. Lowell Dillon today was appointed superintendent of the Columbus State Hospital, succeeding the late Dr. Marlin Wedemeyer.

Appointment of Dr. Dillon was announced by Dr. Leonard P. Ristine, commissioner of the division of mental hygiene in the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

The appointment had the approval of Dr. C. Earl Albrecht, acting chief of the department, as well as of the Advisory Council on Mental Hygiene.

First on the agenda will be the selection of permanent officers from the board's membership. The organization has 10 directors, two each from five southern Ohio counties. They are Joe D. Miller and Miles T. Epling, Gallia County; Robert W. Talbot and Ed Chapman, Jr., Jackson County; Guy Brown and William Ringwald, Jr., Ross County; James Parkinson and Walter Morrow, Fayette County; Jack Jordan and Gordon Wolfangel, Green County. Appointments were made through local Chamber of Commerce groups in each county traversed by Route 35.

Richard Enderlin and Richard E. Midden, both of Chillicothe, served as temporary president and secretary until directors could complete their organization.

The group will seek improvements on US. 35 to make it a modern highway adequate for its rapidly increasing traffic volume. Many of the improvements which the route needs are highlighted in the movie which Enderlin made recently on a trip across the state from Richmond Ind. to Point Pleasant, W. Va.

Roy Woodrow Still in Hospital While Benefit Game Planned

While Roy Woodrow of the Jasper-Coil Rd. remains in Grant Hospital, Columbus, recovering from injuries received in Southwestern Ohio (SWO) League baseball game in Columbus last Sunday afternoon, plans for a benefit program of baseball and softball games were taking form.

Tommy Smalley, manager of the Washington C. H. Athletics, said he received a letter from Cliff Marvin, manager of the Columbus All Stars, Thursday, saying he and the All Stars had just about completed arrangements for the benefit program, which will be put on in Columbus "some Saturday night" in the future.

Woodrow, third baseman for the Athletics, and William Wardel, the left fielder, collided head-on when they both went after a fly ball in short left field last Sunday afternoon in a game between the Athletics and All Stars. Both were taken to Grant Hospital in an ambulance from the Fire Department.

WOODROW suffered severe multiple lacerations about his face, a broken jaw and a concussion. It was said at the hospital Friday noon that he has regained consciousness and that his condition now is "good." However, friends from here who have visited him, said they understood he would not be released from the hospital for some time, possibly three weeks.

Wardel, who played with the Athletics although his home is in Columbus, was severely cut about the face, also, but was released about midnight Sunday.

Smalley said Marvin told him in his letter that the benefit program probably would include a baseball game between the All Stars and the Picard Paint team of the Heart of Ohio League and two softball game between Columbus teams. Three softball teams have been lined up, he said: Westinghouse, Jeffrey and Bart's Bar.

THE GAMES will be played, he said, at Sunshine Park on Route 104, a short distance south (turn right at traffic light) of Mound St.

Which Saturday night the games will be played has not been decided, Smalley said and added that he and Woodrow's team mates also are planning a benefit game here, although no details have been worked out.

Smalley pointed out that no team insurance is carried on the players. Woodrow, he said, had been working at an industrial plant in Columbus and in addition to losing time from his job, will be faced with hospital and doctor bills when he recovers.

Incidentally, the Athletics will play the Greenfield team of the SWO at the park here Sunday afternoon.

Truckers Held After Mishaps

Sabina Man Hits Gas Hauler, Tree

A Sabina man was charged with drunken driving after his small truck smashed the rear of a gasoline hauler, caromed off a tree, and traveled a block away from Columbus Ave. and Delaware St. about 9:35 a. m. Friday.

Police said they were holding Howard Williamson, 43, of Sabina, after an alcometer test. He was also charged with failure to stop within assured clear distance.

Williamson was headed east on Columbus Ave. when the gasoline truck, driven by John W. Briggs of Route 2, Washington C. H., stopped in front of him at the Delaware St. traffic light.

WITNESSES said Williamson hit the back of the other truck, bounced to the side of the street where he collided with a tree, then drove a block east and stopped just around the corner on Willard St. The front wheels of his vehicle were pointed in opposite directions when the vehicle came to rest.

Damage, other than to the wheels was slight.

Another man, Robert Cosgray, 28, Columbus delivery trucker, was charged with failure to yield the right of way just minutes before and only few blocks away. He allegedly went through an Elm St. stop sign and his car was struck by another driven by Hays Watson, 61, of 1019 Cedar St.

Watson was headed west on Willard St. when the mishap occurred. He was examined by a physician but deemed uninjured.

Both Cosgray and Williamson were cited for Monday court appearance.

Traveling House At New Address

The former First Baptist Church parsonage and Sunday School building is nearing its new Worley St. address today. During the relatively cool hours of the early morning, the house was pulled onto Worley St. and by noon it was being swung around to be placed over the already excavated basement. Perry Lynn, in charge of the moving project, said he hoped traffic could go over Worley St. by late this afternoon or Saturday morning.

Dillon Is Appointed As Hospital Chieftain

COLUMBUS (AP)—Dr. Lowell Dillon today was appointed superintendent of the Columbus State Hospital, succeeding the late Dr. Marlin Wedemeyer.

Appointment of Dr. Dillon was announced by Dr. Leonard P. Ristine, commissioner of the division of mental hygiene in the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

The appointment had the approval of Dr. C. Earl Albrecht, acting chief of the department, as well as of the Advisory Council on Mental Hygiene.
